No. 818.—The 16th February 1915.—In the year 1903 His Majesty's Secretary of State for India sanctioned as a provisional measure the institution of a certain number of scholarships, tenable by natives of India, in Europe or America. The purpose of these scholarships was to provide for natives of India that higher technical education which might qualify them to assist in promoting existing native industries and developing new industries wherever this might be possible. Technical education for this purpose was defined as (a) the study of the scientific methods and principles underlying the practice of any handicraft, industry or profession, and (b) the application of these methods and principles to the handicraft, industry or profession in question. Law, medicine, civil engineering, forestry and veterinary science, being already provided for, were not included among the subjects to be studied by the holders of the technical scholarships, and agriculture was excluded from the scope of the scheme.

2. The Government of India have decided to award, during the year 1915, one scholarship to each province, provided that the Local Government or Administration concerned has a suitable candidate to nominate, and that its recommendation is submitted in accordance with the principles which are stated in paragraph 5 below, and that the industry to be studied is either already developed or in the process of development.

3. It may, however, happen that, owing to the dearth of eligible candidates in certain provinces, two or more scholarships may on occasion be available for allotment to other provinces. If, therefore, a Local Government is in a position to recommend confidently more than one candidate, such recommendation may be submitted to the Government of India. In such cases the candidates need not necessarily be selected for the same industry.

4. As regards the current year, it has been decided, after consultation with representatives of the mercantile and industrial communities, that one candidate will, if possible, be recommended for a scholarship in connection with either Mechanical Engineering or Electrical Engineering. If a second scholarship is allotted to Bengal, a second candidate may be recommended in either of the subjects The selection will depend largely on the character of the applications received.

5. The principles in accordance with which recommendations for scholarships will be submitted to the Government of India are as follow:—

(a) In making selections Government will bear in mind the fact that it will be necessary for the students to have a competent knowledge of English, or of the language of any other country to which they may be sent.

(b) Government will also be guided by considerations of the capacity and intelligence of applicants, and of the practical interest shown by them in the industries selected, as also the assurance which they may afford that they will continue to devote themselves to the industries selected on their return in India. These being matters which cannot be decided by competition, it is to be understood that the scholarships are not to be regarded as prizes, for which every one has a right to claim an equal opportunity of competing.

(c) As a general rule, a scholar. before being nominated, should have received the best technical education available in the province in the particular industry which he proposes to study. The standard of this education differs in different industries, and each may be considered on its own merits. Even if the standard of technical education in a particular industry is low, the scholar may be nominated, if he has availed himself of the best facilities obtainable, and shown an interest in the industry selected.

(d) No age-limit is fixed for scholars, but an age-limit may, at the discretion of Government, be fixed for any particular scholarship for which they invite applications.

(e) No scholar shall be selected without passing a searching examination as to physical fitness to undertake the manual work which will be an essential part of his career.

6. The following are the conditions and terms on which the scholarships are tenable:—

(a) The value of the scholarships has been fixed at £150 a year, exclusive of fees payable to the institutions where the scholars will study, and travelling expenses; but in special cases Government will consider proposals for increasing the amount of the scholarships.

(b) In ordinary circumstances the period for which a scholarship is tenable will be two years, but in special cases it may be increased to a third year, or, on the other hand, it may be reduced below even two years.

(c) The scholarships are tenable in foreign countries as well as in Great Britain, and are payable from the date on which a scholar reports his arrival in the country which he may have selected for the purpose of study.

(d) The scholarships are tenable by persons who are natives of India within the meaning of section 6, Statutes 33 and 34 Vic., Cap. 3.

(e) The scholars, while in England or elsewhere, will be under the supervision and control of the Educational Adviser of Indian students in London. The conditions under which they will hold the scholarships are given in the "Rules for Indian Government Technical Scholars in England," a copy of which is attached to this notification.

7. It is essential, not only in the interests of the scholars themselves, but also in order to avoid unnecessary extentions of scholarships, that the beginning of the period of the scholars' residence in England should coincide with the opening of the academical session of the institution which they propose to enter. It has accordingly been arranged, in consultation with the Secretary of State, that scholars shall report themselves in England not later than the middle of September. It has also been ascertained that it is of no advantage to them to reach England earlier than this, and that consequently they should not ordinarily leave India before the middle of August.

8. The special attention of candidates is invited to the fact that scholars must depend upon their own exertions when they return to India, and that the Government cannot, and does not, undertake to provide them with employment.

9. All applications for scholarships to be awarded during the year 1915 must reach the Director of Public Instruction on or before the 10th March 1915.

10. RULES FOR INDIAN GOVERNMENT TECHNICAL SCHOLARS IN ENGLAND.

1. The Secretary of State considers it desirable that all Government scholars should avail themselves of the information and advice which the Educational Adviser to Indian students is in a position to give them, and these rules are framed with that end in view. Government scholars, equally with private students, may consult the Educational Adviser upon any question, and will receive from him all possible assistance, and the Secretary of State hopes that they will communicate with the Educational Adviser, not only on the occasions when they are directed so to do in these rules, but also in any circumstances of difficulty and whenever they desire advice or information. Scholars will be regarded as being under the supervision and charge of the Educational Adviser, to whom they should in all cases address any communication they may have to make, and to whom also all report or other communications having reference to scholars should be sent. The Educational Adviser will bring to the notice of the Secretary of State on behalf of any scholar any question requiring his decision, and will communicate to the scholar the orders passed by the Secretary of State.

2. Every scholar should, on reaching England, at once call on the Educational Adviser* and report his arrival in writing. He should leave his address with the Educational Adviser and intimate to him from time to time all changes therein.

3. Every scholar should, without unnecessary delay, inform the Educational Adviser to which University, College, or other Institution he is about to proceed, and should at once take steps to enter himself at the Institution finally selected with his approval.

4. Every scholar must, within four weeks of reaching England, submit to the Educational Adviser, for the approval of the Secretary of State, a statement showing the general course of study he proposes to follow to carry out the objects of the scholarship granted to him: and he should, during his first College term, submit a further statement showing as accurately as possible the details of the total cost of such course of study. This latter statement should in every case be prepared in consultation with the Principal of the College or Institution at which the student is entered.

The course approved must not be changed without the sanction of the Secretary of State.

5. Every scholar must give a written undertaking that he will devote himself exclusively, during the tenure of his scholarship, to the study of the subject for which his scholarship was granted, and that he will return to India on its termination, and there continue to devote himself to the industry which he has studied. Any scholar who neglects his studies, or tries to work for any other profession concurrently, will render himself liable to forfeiture of his scholarship.

6. Every scholar will be required to keep a concise daily diary, to be certified by the authority under whom he is working, and to be submitted at the end of each term through that authority to the Educational Adviser and to the Secretary of State for transmission to India. He must also submit, in the same way, from time to time, full notes of the work on which he is employed.

7. Scholars will be expected to continue their studies during the summer vacations of the institutions where they are working, with the exception of three weeks in each year. Vacation study should, when possible, take the form of practical work.

8. Applications giving a detailed programme of the vacation work the scholar proposes to do, accompanied with a complete estimate of any extra expenses for fees and travelling, must be sent in through the Principal of the Institution or the Professor under whom the scholar is working before the end of the month of April. Scholars are not entitled to any subsistence allowance in addition to the scholarship allowance during time spent on vacation work, but a scholar who receives permission to visit the Continent may, if the Secretary of State for India in Council considers that the circumstances render it desirable, be granted a subsistence allowance calculated at such rate as the Secretary of State may decide.

9. Every scholar must, at the end of each term of residence at a University or College, submit to the Educational Adviser a certificate from the proper University or College authority, showing that his residence, conduct, and progress in study have been satisfactory during the term.

10. Every scholar must at all times obey such instructions as he may receive from the Secretary of State, either directly or through the Educational Adviser.

11. Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the allowance, at the rate of £150 a year for two years, or three years if so determined, will be paid quarterly in advance by the India Office, commencing from the date of the scholar's reporting his arrival in England. The first payment will be £37 10s. Three months after the date of reporting arrival the amount of the ensuing official quarter day will be paid. Subsequent payments will be made in advance, on or after each official quarter day. The allowance will be reduced by the amount of any other sum which may become payable to him out of the revenues of India in respect of residence at a University, College or Institution during the same period or any part of it, but not in respect of University or College fees, the cost of which will be separately defrayed by the Secretary of State. Fees for private tuition are not defrayed by the Secretary of State unless previously sanctioned by him.

The necessary travelling expenses of scholars, by second class, or by third class if no second class be available, will also be separately defrayed by the Secretary of State; these should be claimed on forms obtainable from the Educational Adviser.

Deposits and other charges which are part of the regular fees exacted by the authorities of the educational establishment in which a scholar is working will be paid by the Secretaty of State; but charges for books, instruments, hotel bills, and medical attendance must be paid by the scholar himself (any refund of a deposit must be repaid to the Secretary of State).

12. No claim can be admitted for the payment or refund of any expenditure unless the scholar has obtained the previous sanction of the Secretary of State for India to such expenditure. (This does not apply to necessary travelling expenses referred to above.)

13. Every scholar will forfeit his scholarship who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the Secretary of State may consider sufficient, fails to complete the required term of residence in England according to the terms and conditions approved by the Secretary of State under rule 4, or who is guilty of misconduct or disregard of the instructions of the Secretary of State. If a scholarship be forfeited, or if it be resigned before completion of its term, or if a scholar on completion of the term of his scholarship declines to return to India in accordance with the undertaking mentioned in rule 5, the scholar will lose his claim to a free return passage to India. and will further become liable to refund the cost of his free passage to England.

14. At the expiration of his scholarship a scholar is provided by the India Office with a free second-class passage to India. The scholar is not entitled to make his own passage arrangements and to claim an allowance in lieu from the India Office without the special sanction of the Secretary of State. All communications on this subject are to be made to the Educational Adviser.

15. Should the Secretary of State be advised that the state of a scholar's health is such as to render his return to India desirable, the scholarship may be terminated forthwith and a free return passage granted to the scholar.

SCHEDULE 3.

Scheme.

1. The Endowment shall be called "The Ram Gopal Sen Endowment" after the name of the father of the Donor, Babu Hera Lal Sen, the Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector of Ranchi.

2. In the event of any of the debentures of the Calcutta Municipality or the Port Trust forming part of the Endowment being paid off, the proceeds thereof shall, as far as possible, be invested by the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments in similar debentures or other debentures or investments authorised by sub-section 3 of the Charitable Endowments Act, which will pay not less than 4 per cent interest.

3. The Director of Public Instruction, Bengal or other executive head, for the time being, of the Education Department under the Government of Bengal, shall be the Administrator of the Endowment.

4. The object of the Endowment is to provide scholarships for persons of the Subarnabanik community, such persons being not more than 25 years of age and being selected as hereinafter provided from students attending or about to attend at any technical institution approved by the Administrator or at any school in Calcutta affiliated to the University of Calcutta or at any college, wherever carried on, affiliated to the said University, provided that the person selected has satisfied, or shall, within three months after his selection, satisfy, the ordinary conditions of admission to such institution, school or college, provided always that amalgamated scholarships may be provided for students under clause 5 or clause 14 as hereinafter mentioned.

5. The present income of the said Endowment of Rs. 15,000 is Rs. 600 per annum, but if by reason of any alteration of investments or other cause the said income arising from such Rs. 15,000 shall be reduced or increased the value of the scholarships hereinafter mentioned shall be deemed to be reduced or increased proportionately.

Each year's income shall, subject to the amalgamation of scholarships under clause 14 hereof, be applied in payment of five ordinary scholarships of Rs. 120 each, distributable over a period of two years as hereinafter mentioned.

Five ordinary scholarships shall accordingly be awarded in the manner hereinafter mentioned every year, provided always that if at any time one amalgamated scholarship of the income of the said Rs. 15,000 for two years shall be awarded under clause 14 hereof for a student going abroad, no ordinary scholarships shall be awarded in respect of the income for such two years which would otherwise have been available.

The Donor may in any year amalgamate any two or more ordinary scholarships into one in cases where larger fees are required for any particular institution, and any such scholarship amalgamated under this power (as distinguished from clause 14) shall be deemed in all respects, other than the amount thereof, to be an ordinary scholarship.

In the event of the addition to the Endowment under clause 13 hereof of any sum of Rs. 3,000 accumulated as therein mentioned the number of ordinary scholarships shall be increased by one, and all the provisions of this scheme shall apply mutatis mutandis as if such sum had been part of the original Endowment.

6. The selection of students to receive scholarships shall be made by the Donor during his life-time and thereafter by his eldest son, Manik Lal Sen, and after the death of the eldest son, by his eldest son, and so on by the male descendants of the said son, and in the event of failure of male descendants of the said son, then by the second and third sons (Nitai Lal Sen and Gour Lal Sen) and their male descendants, respectively, in order, and after them, by the four elder brothers of the Donor (Balai Chand Sen, Doyal Chand Sen, Shyam Lal Sen and Ram Lal Sen) and their male descendants respectively in order.

7. Selections shall be made by the end of the first week of each academical year, and the Administrator shall forthwith be informed thereof in writing.

8. Upon failure by the person entitled to make any selection for any vacant scholarship and to inform the Administrator thereof within one year after the time aforesaid the Administrator shall make a selection which shall not thereafter be questioned for that scholarship. The Administrator may in such cases exercise all powers of amalgamation (where funds permit) in the same way as might have been done by the person entitled as aforesaid.

9. Selections of students to receive ordinary scholarships shall be made every year in manner aforesaid, and the ordinary scholarships awarded to them shall be tenable for two years each, and a selection of a student to receive an amalgamated scholarship under clause 14 may be made in any year, provided always that selections for scholarships, whether ordinary or amalgamated, shall only be made in respect of years in which there will be income available for the same and not already allocated to any scholarships.

10. Ordinary scholarships shall be distributed monthly; each monthly payment to be Rs. 5, or one-twenty-fourth part of the total sum available for each scholarship as aforesaid, as the case may be, the said monthly payments being increased proportionately where two or more ordinary scholarships are amalgamated. The monthly payments shall be made to each scholar direct, but the total income shall be paid annually by the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments to the Administrator who shall pay therefrom every month to the Principals or Headmasters of the respective institutions, at which scholars may be, the amounts due for that month on the respective scholarships for payment to the scholars, provided that in case of amalgamated scholarships under clause 14, they shall be distributed as therein provided. Any sums remaining in the hands of the Administrator, which for any reason shall not be required to be distributed for scholarships, shall be accumulated by the Administrator who shall once at least in every year pay such accumulations to the Treasurer for investment under the provisions of clause 13 of this scheme.

11. Scholars selected as aforesaid shall, if studying at a non-Government institution in Calcutta, report themselves once a month to the Administrator, or, in his absence, to the officer in charge of his office, and, if studying at a non-Government institution outside Calcutta, shall similarly report themselves to the Deputy Inspector of Schools of the district, or, in his absence, to the officer in charge of that office.

12. A scholarship shall be forfeited if the scholar fails to pass any University or Class examination which may be due to be passed by him according to the rules of the institution which he shall be attending, unless the Principal or Headmaster shall certify in writing that such failure was due to causes beyond the scholar's control. It shall be forfeited if the University of Calcutta disqualifies the scholar for further study or suspends him. It shall be forfeited if a scholar shall twice fail to report himself under clause 11, unless the officer to whom such report ought to have been made shall certify in writing to the Administrator that such failure was due to causes beyond the control of the scholar. A scholarship shall cease upon the death of the scholar holding it, but shall be paid to him or his representatives up to and including the month in which he shall die.

13. Any income of any part of the fund which shall not have been expended in any year by reason of failure to select a scholar or scholars, or by reason of forfeiture of a scholarship or the death of a scholar, or for any other reason shall be accumulated by the Treasurer, and any sums so accumulated shall be applied in the first instance in payment of any expenses of investment or re-investment of any part of the fund, and the surplus shall, when sufficient, be applied in purchase of a debenture or debentures as aforesaid, and the income thereof shall also be accumulated until a total of Rs. 3,000 shall have been accumulated and invested, whereupon the same shall be treated as part of the original Endowment and be used for an additional ordinary scholarship, and subsequent accumulations of income shall be utilised in like manner.

14. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Donor or the person for the time being entitled to select scholars as aforesaid may at any time (but without interfering with any scholarships then awarded and continuing) amalgamate the income of every Rs. 15,000 of the fund into one scholarship, to commence when the whole income of such Rs. 15,000 is available, and may award such scholarship to any student of the Subarnabanik community of not more than 30 years of age to enable or assist him to prosecute his studies in any of the Universities of England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Germany, or the United States of America, or in any institution in any of those countries approved by the Administrator. Such award shall be absolutely final and shall not be liable to be questioned by anyone, but the other clauses of this scheme, so far as they are applicable, shall apply to any such selection and scholarship. Such scholarship shall continue for two years only, subject to the scholar observing the rules of the college or institution attended by him, and shall be remitted to the scholar by the Administrator by instalments quarterly or more frequently as the Administrator may think fit. The Donor or person for the time being entitled to select scholars may in any year discontinue the awarding of amalgamated scholarships and may revert to the procedure of ordinary scholarships.

15. Any scholarships already awarded under the rules of the trust fund of Rs. 5,000 accepted by the Government of Bengal on the 14th June 1911, or the amalgamated scholarship already awarded by the Donor under clause 14, shall not be affected by this scheme, and the income of the said fund of Rs 5,000 or of the additional Endowment of Rs. 10,000 now made shall not be available for the purposes of this scheme until after the expiration or determination of such scholarships.

DRAFT RULES.

1. Wherever mooring posts have been put up by the Supervisor, vessels must be made fast by the bow and stern along the banks to such posts, or in such other manner as the Supervisor may direct.

2. As the water falls, the bow and stern ropes must be slackened, and boats gradually pushed towards the centre of the canal; when the flood comes in these two ropes must be gradually hauled in, and the boat kept as close to the bank as possible.

3. In portions of the canals where only one towing-path exists, vessels must be moored on the off-side, and the towing-path side must always be kept clear.

4. Only one boat is allowed to make fast along and in line with the canal banks, and no boat is to be made fast or be placed outside of boats so secured without the special permission of the Supervisor. No boat or raft is to be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other boats, or obstruct the passage of other boats; but all boats are to be placed in such places and in such a manner as the Supervisor or Inspector may at any time direct.

5. The Supervisor may, by notification, prohibit the dropping of anchors or the putting up of bamboos or luggees in any part of the canals or banks, and in such part no anchors must be dropped or bamboos or luggees put up.

6. Boats whilst loading or unloading in the canals are allowed to use ladders, but the ladders must be gradually taken in as the water rises.

7. In order to avoid collision and confusion, boats waiting for a favourable tide at the junction of two or more rivers must be moored at a distance of not less than 1,000 feet from the point of junction.

8. No person is allowed to place any obstruction on the canal banks, roads, drains or bridges (when such are on canal land) so as to impede a free passage along them, or cause injury to them, or to commit a nuisance, or deposit filth of any sort on the banks, bridges or roads or in the canals.

9. No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the canals.

10. In every case of wreck caused by negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor and his subordinates must give all possible assistance in removing the same.

11. A notice must be affixed on a wreck when recovered, calling on those concerned to pay to the Supervisor all tolls which may be due, or any fine which may have been adjudged, as well as the expenses incurred in the recovery or removal of the wreck; and intimating that if the sum be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the boat and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold, the proceeds of the sale being dealt with as directed in section 9 of the Canals Act, 1864.

12. Every Canal officer is authorized to remove any vessel, anchor, pole or other thing which he may find in a position which is in contravention of these rules, and to deal with it in such a manner as may be necessary to give effect to the rules.

13. Whenever any laden vessel is seized by a Canal Officer, it is the duty of the Supervisor to give immediate notice of the same to the owner or his agent, requiring the removal of the cargo without delay, and informing him that he will be required to pay all expenses necessary for the proper custody and storage of the same.

14. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or abode of the owner of the cargo of any vessel or boat seized under the said Act, he must notify the seizure by advertisement in his office and in one or more of the public newspapers. Such notice shall require the owner to cause the immediate removal of the cargo, and to pay any necessary expenses incurred in providing for its proper custody and storage.

15. The Supervisor may incur whatever expense he may think necessary for the proper custody and storage of the cargo of any vessel seized under the Act, and if the cargo be not removed within ten days from the date of seizure, he may sell the same at public auction to the highest bidder, after giving ten days' notice of the same by advertisement in his office and in one or more of the public newspapers.

16. The money realized at such a sale is to be applied, in the first instance, to defray any expenditure that may have been incurred by the Supervisor on account of the cargo sold and the balance, if any, is to be held in deposit to be paid to the owner of the said cargo on his applying for the same.

17. No officer of any description or rank employed on the canal shall, either directly or indirectly, bid for or purchase any articles sold under these rules or under the provisions of the Act.

18. Any person (other than the Supervisor or his subordinates) who, either personally, or by his servant, infringes any of these rules, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for any one infringement, and to a fine not exceeding five rupees a day for any continued infringement.

War Office,

9th September 1914.

THE following despatch has been received by the Secretary of State for War from the Field-Marshal Commanding-in-Chief, British Forces in the Field :—

7th September 1914.

MY LORD,

I have the honour to report the proceedings of the Field Force under my command up to the time of rendering this despatch.

1. The transport of the troops from England both by sea and by rail was effected in the best order and without a check. Each unit arrived at its destination in this country well within the scheduled time.

The concentration was practically complete on the evening of Friday, the 21st ultimo, and I was able to make dispositions to move the Force during Saturday, the 22nd, to positions I considered most favourable from which to commence operations which the French Commander-in-Chief, General Joffre, requested me to undertake in pursuance of his plans in prosecution of the campaign.

The line taken up extended along the line of the canal from Conde on the west, through Mons and Binche on the east. This line was taken up as follows :—

From Conde to Mons inclusive was assigned to the Second Corps, and to the right of the Second Corps from Mons the First Corps was posted. The 5th Cavalry Brigade was placed at Binche.

In the absence of my Third Army Corps I desired to keep the Cavalry Division as much as possible as a reserve to act on my outer flank, or move in support of any threatened part of the line. The forward reconnaissance was entrusted to Brigadier-General Sir Philip Chetwode with the 5th Cavalry Brigade, but I directed General Allenby to send forward a few squadrons to assist in this work.

During the 22nd and 23rd these advanced squadrons did some excellent work, some of them penetrating as far as Soignies, and several encounters took place in which our troops showed to great advantage.

2. At 6 A.M., on August 23rd, I assembled the Commanders of the First and Second Corps and Cavalry Division at a point close to the position, and explained the general situation of the Allies, and what I understood to be General Joffre's plan. I discussed with them at some length the immediate situation in front of us.

From information I received from French Headquarters I understood that little more than one, or at most two, of the enemy's Army Corps, with perhaps one Cavalry Division, were in front of my position; and I was aware of no attempted outflanking movement by the enemy. I was confirmed in this opinion by the fact that my patrols encountered no undue opposition in their reconnoitring operations. The observation of my aeroplanes seemed also to bear out this estimate.

About 3 P.M. on Sunday, the 23rd, reports began coming in to the effect that the enemy was commencing an attack on the Mons line, apparently in some strength, but that the right of the position from Mons and Bray was being particularly threatened.

The Commander of the First Corps had pushed his flank back to some high ground south of Bray, and the 5th Cavalry Brigade evacuated Binche, moving slightly south: enemy thereupon occupied Binche.

The right of the 3rd Division, under General Hamilton, was at Mons, which formed a somewhat dangerous salient; and I directed the Commander of the Second Corps to be careful not to keep the troops on this salient too long, but, if threatened seriously, to draw back centre behind Mons. This was done before dark. In the meantime, about 5 P.M., I received a most unexpected message from General Joffre by telegraph, telling me that at least three German Corps, viz., a reserve corps, the 4th Corps and the 9th Corps, were moving on my position in front, and that the Second Corps was engaged in a turning movement from the direction of Tournay. He also informed me that the two reserve French divisions and the 5th French Army on my right were retiring, the Germans having on the previous day gained possession of the passages of the Sambre between Charleroi and Namur.

3. In view of the possibility of my being driven from the Mons position, I had previously ordered a position in rear to be reconnoitred. This position rested on the fortress of Maubeuge on the right and extended west to Jenlain, south-east of Valenciennes on the left. The position was reported difficult to hold, because standing crops and buildings made the sitting of trenches very difficult and limited the field of fire in many important localities. It nevertheless afforded a few good artillery positions.

When the news of the retirement of the French and the heavy German threatening on my front reached me, I endeavoured to confirm it by aeroplane reconnaissance; and as a result of this I determined to effect a retirement to the Maubeuge position at daybreak on the 24th.

A certain amount of fighting continued along the whole line throughout the night, and at daybreak on the 24th the 2nd Division from the neighbourhood of Harmignies made a powerful demonstration as if to retake Binche. This was supported by the artillery of both the 1st and 2nd Divisions, whilst the 1st Division took up a supporting position in the neighbourhood of Peissant. Under cover of this demonstration the Second Corps retired on the line Dour-Quarouble-Frameries. The 3rd Division on the right of the Corps suffered considerable loss in this operation from the enemy, who had retaken Mons.

The Second Corps halted on this line, where they partially entrenched themselves, enabling Sir Douglas Haig with the First Corps gradually to withdraw to the new position; and he effected this without much further loss, reaching the line Bavai-Maubeuge about 7 P.M. Towards midday the enemy appeard to be directing his principal effort against our left.

I had previously ordered General Allenby with the Cavalry to act vigorously in advance of my left front and endeavour to take the pressure off.

About 7-30 A.M. General Allenby received a message from Sir Charles Fergusson, Commanding 5th Division, saying that he was very hard pressed and in urgent need of support. On receipt of this message General Allenby drew in the Cavalry and endeavoured to bring direct support to the 5th Division.

During the course of this operation General De Lisle, of the 2nd Cavalry Brigade, thought he saw a good opportunity to paralyse the further advance of the enemy's infantry by making a mounted attack on his flank. He formed up an advanced for this purpose, but was held up by wire about 500 yards from his objective, and the 9th Lancers and 18th Hussars suffered severely in the retirement of the Brigade.

The 19th Infantry Brigade, which had been guarding the Line of Communications, was brought up by rail to Valenciennes on the 22nd and 23rd. On the morning of the 24th they were moved out to a position south of Quarouble to support the left flank of the Second Corps.

With the assistance of the Cavalry Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien was enabled to effect his retreat to a new position; although, having two corps of the enemy on his front and one threatening his flank, he suffered great losses in doing so.

At nightfall the position was occupied by the Second Corps to the west of Bavai, the First Corps to the right. The right was protected by the Fortress of Maubeuge, the left by the 19th Brigade in position between Jenlain and Bry, and the Cavalry on the outer flank.

4. The French were still retiring, and I had no support except such as was afforded by the Fortress of Maubeuge; and the determined attempts of the enemy to get round my left flank assured me that it was his intention to hem me against that place and surround me. I felt that not a moment must be lost in retiring to another position.

I had every reason to believe that the enemy's forces were somewhat exhausted, and I knew that they had suffered heavy losses. I hoped, therefore, that his pursuit would not be too vigorous to prevent me effecting my object.

The operation, however, was full of danger and difficulty, not only owing to the very superior force in my front, but also to the exhaustion of the troops.

The retirement was recommenced in the early morning of the 25th to a position in the neighbourhood of Le Cateau, and rearguards were ordered to be clear of the Maubeuge-Bavai-Eth Road by 5-30 A.M.

Two Cavalry Brigades, with the Divisional Cavalry of the Second Corps, covered the movement of the Second Corps. The remainder of the Cavalry Division with the 19th Brigade, the whole under the command of General Allenby, covered the west flank.

The 4th Division commenced its detrainment at Le Cateau on Sunday, the 23rd, and by the morning of the 25th eleven battalions and a Brigade of Artillery with Divisional Staff were available for service.

I ordered General Snow to move out to take up a position with his right, south of Solesmes, his left resting on the Cambrai-Le Cateau Road south of La Chaprie. In this position the Division rendered great help to the effective retirement of the Second and First Corps to the new position.

Although the troops had been ordered to occupy the Cambrai-Le Cateau-Landrecies position, and the ground had, during the 25th, been partially prepared and entrenched, I had grave doubts—owing to the information I received as to the accumulating strength of the enemy against me—as to the wisdom of standing there to fight.

Having regard to the continued retirement of the French on my right, my exposed left flank, the tendency of the enemy's western Corps (II) to envelop me, and, more than all, the exhausted condition of the troops, I determined to make a great effort to continue the retreat till I could put some substantial obstacle, such as the Somme or the Oise, between my troops and the enemy, and afford the former some opportunity of rest and reorganisation. Orders were, therefore, sent to the Corps Commanders to continue their retreat as soon as they possibly could towards the general line Vermand-St. Quentin-Ribemont.

The Cavarly, under General Allenby, were ordered to cover the retirement.

Throughout the 25th and far into the evening, the First Corps continued its march on Landrecies, following the road along the eastern border of the Forêt De Mormal, and arrived at Landrecies about 10 o'clock. I had intended that the Corps should come further west so as to fill up the gap between Le Cateau and Landrecies, but the men were exhausted and could not get further in without rest.

The enemy, however, would not allow them this rest, and about 9-30 P.M. a report was received that the 4th Guards Brigade in Landrecies was heavily attacked by troops of the 9th German Army Corps who were coming through the forest on the north of the town. This brigade fought most gallantly and caused the enemy to suffer tremendous loss in issuing from the forest into the narrow streets of the town. The loss has been estimated from reliable sources at from 700 to 1,000. At the same time information reached me from Sir Douglas Haig that his 1st Division was also heavily engaged south and east of Maroilles. I sent urgent messages to the Commander of the two French Reserve Divisions on my right to come up to the assistance of the First Corps, which they eventually did. Partly owing to this assistance, but mainly to the skilful manner in which Sir Douglas Haig extricated his Corps from an exceptionally difficult position in the darkness of the night, they were able at dawn to resume their march south towards Wassigny on Guise.

By about 6 P.M. the Second Corps had got into position with their right on Le Cateau, their left in the neighbourhood of Caudry, and the line of defence was continued thence by the 4th Division towards Seranvillers, the left being thrown back.

During the fighting on the 24th and 25th the Cavalry became a good deal scattered, but by the early morning of the 26th, General Allenby had succeeded in concentrating two brigades to the south of Cambrai.

The 4th Division was placed under the orders of the General Officer Commanding the Second Army Corps.

On the 24th the French Cavalry Corps, consisting of three divisions, under General Sordêt, had been in billets north of Avesnes. On my way back from Bavai, which was my "Poste de Commandement" during the fighting of the 23rd and 24th, I visited General Sordêt, and earnestly requested his co-operation and support. He promised to obtain sanction from his Army Commander to act on my left flank, but said that his horses were too tired to move before the next day. Although he rendered me valuable assistance later on in the course of the retirement, he was unable for the reasons given to afford me any support on the most critical day of all, viz., the 26th.

At daybreak it became apparent that the enemy was throwing the bulk of his strength against the left of the position occupied by the Second Corps and the 4th Division.

At this time the guns of four German Army Corps were in position against them, and Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien reported to me that he judged it impossible to continue his retirement at daybreak (as ordered) in face of such an attack.

I sent him orders to use his utmost endeavours to break off the action and retire at the earliest possible moment, as it was impossible for me to send him any support, the First Corps being at the moment incapable of movement.

The French Cavalry Corps under General Sordêt was coming up on our left rear early in the morning, and I sent an urgent message to him to do his utmost to come up and support the retirement of my left flank; but owing to the fatigue of his horses he found himself unable to intervene in any way.

There had been no time to entrench the position properly, but the troops showed a magnificent front to the terrible fire which confronted them.

The Artillery, although outmatched by at least four to one, made a splendid fight, and inflicted heavy losses on their opponents.

At length it became apparent that, if complete annihilation was to be avoided, a retirement must be attempted; and the order was given to commence it about 3-30 P.M. The movement was covered with the most devoted intrepidity and determination by the Artillery, which had itself suffered heavily, and the fine work done by the Cavalry in the further retreat from the position assisted materially in the final completion of this most difficult and dangerous operation.

Fortunately the enemy had himself suffered too heavily to engage in an energetic pursuit.

I cannot close the brief account of this glorious stand of the British troops without putting on record my deep appreciation of the valuable services rendered by General Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien.

I say without hesitation that the saving of the left wing of the Army under my command on the morning of the 26th August could never have been accomplished unless a commander of rare and unusual coolness, intrepidity, and determination had been present to personally conduct the operation.

The retreat was continued far into the night of the 26th and through the 27th and 28th, on which date the troops halted on the line Noyon-Chauny-La Fere, having then thrown off the weight of the enemy's pursuit.

On the 27th and 28th I was much indebted to General Sordet and the French Cavalry Division which he commands for materially assisting my retirement and successfully driving back some of the enemy on Cambrai.

General D'Amade also, with the 61st and 62nd French Reserve Divisions moved down from the neighbourhood of Arras on the enemy's right flank and took much pressure off the rear of the British Forces.

This closes the period covering the heavy fighting which commenced at Mons on Sunday afternoon, 23rd August, and which really constituted a four days' battle.

At this point, therefore, I propose to close the present despatch.

I deeply deplore the very serious losses which the British Forces have suffered in this great battle; but they were inevitable in view of the fact that the British army—only two days after a concentration by rail—was called upon to withstand a vigorous attack of five German Army Corps.

It is impossible for me to speak too highly of the skill evinced by the two General Officers commanding Army Corps; the self-sacrificing and devoted exertions of their Staffs; the direction of the troops by Divisional, Brigade and Regimental Leaders; the command of the smaller units by their officers; and the magnificent fighting spirit displayed by non-commissioned officers and men.

I wish particularly to bring to your Lordship's notice the admirable work done by the Royal Flying Corps under Sir David Henderson. Their skill, energy and perseverance have been beyond all praise. They have furnished me with the most complete and accurate information which has been of incalculable value in the conduct of the operations. Fired at constantly both by friend and foe, and not hesitating to fly in every kind of weather, they have remained undaunted throughout.

Further, by actually fighting in the air, they have succeeded in destroying five of the enemy's machines.

I wish to acknowledge with deep gratitude the incalculable assistance I received from the General and Personal Staffs at headquarters during this trying period.

Lieutenant-General Sir Archibald Murray, Chief of the General Staff, Major-General Wilson, Sub-Chief of the General Staff, and all under them have worked day and night unceasingly with the utmost skill, self-sacrifice, and devotion, and the same acknowledgment is due by me to Brigadier-General Hon. W. Lambton, my Military Secretary, and the Personal Staff.

In such operations as I have described the work of the Quartermaster-General is of an extremely onerous nature. Major-General Sir William Robertson has met what appeared to be almost insuperable difficulties with his characteristic energy, skill and determination, and it is largely owing to his exertions that the hardships and sufferings of the troops—inseparable from such operations—were not much greater.

Major-General Sir Nevil Macready, the Adjutant-General, has also been confronted with most onerous and difficult tasks in connection with disciplinary arrangements and the preparation of casualty lists. He has been indefatigable in his exertions to meet the difficult situations which arose.

I have not yet been able to complete the list of officers whose names I desire to bring to your Lordship's notice for services rendered during the period under review; and, as I understand it is of importance that this despatch should no longer be delayed, I propose to forward this list, separately, as soon as I can.

I have the honour to be,

Your Lordship's most obedient servant,

(Signed) J. D. P. FRENCH, Field-Marshal,
Commander-in-Chief,
British Forces in the Field.

NOTICE.

License to extract and purchase timber from the North and Middle Andaman Islands.

1. Notice is hereby given that the Government of India are prepared to consider tenders for a license to extract and purchase padauk and other timbers from—

(i) The North Andaman with Interview, Bennett, and all other Islands north of Austin Strait.

(ii) The Middle Andaman excepting that portion to the west of Yoljig and south of the main line cleared from the junction of the Chara lung-ta and Bom-lung-ta streams westwards to Mount Oldham and on to the sea.

2. Sites for depôts, sawmills, residences, and other purposes essential to the carrying out of the terms of the license will be made available at Pott Cornwallis, Stewart Sound, and Long Island at the discretion of the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

3. Tenders may be submitted for either or both of the above areas. The license will be for 20 years from the 1st January 1916, or such later date within six months of the acceptance of the tender as may be agreed upon, with the option of renewal for another 20 years on terms to be notified by the Government of India hereafter ; but those persons whose tenders have been accepted will be permitted to clear land for buildings, and other purposes connected with the license, and to start the erection of such buildings, as from the date on which the agreement is signed and the security money deposited.

4. The fellings will be regulated by the working plans sanctioned or to be sanctioned, by the Government of India. The two areas, mentioned in paragraph 1 above will each be divided into three sub periodic blocks. Felling and extraction of timber and the payment of royalty thereon must be completed in sub-periodic block I by the end of the first seven years of the license, work being similarly completed in sub-periodic blocks II and III by the end of the 11th and 15th years, respectively. Throughout the period of the agreement the Secretary of State for India in Council will retain the right to extract from the licensed areas timber required for local (other than trade purposes) and for local public works, and in any sub-periodic block on the expiry of the period allotted for the working thereof to issue licenses or otherwise provide for the felling, extraction, and disposal of timber which the licensees have omitted or are not bound to extract.

5. The padauk trees to be felled will be marked previously by the Forest Department, and none but marked trees shall be felled. The first sub-periodic block in each area will be located in the neighbourhood of Stewart Sound.

6. The minimum annual outturn of padauk timber for the first fourteen years after which the present working plan will be revised, is estimated as follows, but the accuracy of the estimate is not guaranteed :—

(i) From the North Andaman including Interview and Bennett Islands—

1,200 sound trees of and over 9 feet in girth,
1,000 exploitable unsound trees,

which may be expected to yield—

2,100 tons of first-class logs,
1,400 tons of second-class logs,
2,000 tons of third-class logs.

(ii) From the Middle Andaman—

2,400 sound trees of and over 9 feet in girth,
2,000 exploitable unsound trees,

which may be expected to yield—

4,200 tons of first-class logs,
2,800 tons of second-class logs,
4,000 tons of third-class logs.

The outturn for the last six years of the license will be determined by working plans to be drawn up hereafter.

7. In addition the licensees will be permitted to cut, subject to previous marking, should this in the opinion of the Forest Officer be considered desirable, and to such limits as to area and number as may be imposed by the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands from time to time, other species as follows :—

Gurjan over 8 ft. in girth, didu and pyinma over 7½ ft. in girth, and koko, black chuglam, white chulgam, white bambwe. red bambwe, and taungpein over 6 ft. in girth.

8. The timber will, in all cases, be measured in the round log either at the stump or at collecting depôts as may be found convenient by the Forest Department. All felled timber will be held to be at the risk of the licensees and to be liable to the payment of royalty which must be paid before removal from the islands or conversion in a sawmill.

9. For the first three years of the license royalty will be payable at the rates agreed on and on the amount of timber felled ; but thereafter minima annual royalties will be payable as follows :—

(i) for the North Andaman, Rs. 1,00,000 per annum,
(ii) for the Middle Andaman, Rs. 1,00,000 per annum,
(iii) in case of a combined license for both islands, Rs. 2,00,000 per annum.

10. Except with the special permission of the Divisional Forest Officer all padauk trees, sound or unsound, which have been marked by the forest officers as in their opinion worth conversion, must be felled and royalty paid on them.

11. Should the licensees desire to exploit any form of minor produce or any timber other than those species mentioned above, they may be permitted to do so on terms to be settled hereafter by the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

12. The licensees will be subject to such restrictions as the Government of India may prescribe to prevent communication between their employés and the convict population in the Andamans.

13. Subject to the general control of the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands the cultivation of field crops solely for the support of the labour force will be permitted free of taxation.

14. Facilities will be provided at Stewart Sound for wireless telegraphy, and as far as may be possible for a weekly steamer or launch connection for postal purposes between this place and Port Blair.

15. Such padauk timber as may be available from departmental working in the areas not included in the first paragraph of this notice or in sub periodic blocks in which felling and extraction of timber has been completed by the licensees in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4 above and as may not be required for local consumption in the islands or for issue to State-worked railways or other Government departments in India and Burma, will be sold either by public auction or by public tender, provided that the quantity to be so sold annually, commencing from the first of January 1917, shall not exceed 500 tons of squares and 1,000 tons of scantlings. There will be no limit to the quantity of timber other than padauk which may be extracted from the areas under reference, and no restriction as to its disposal.

16. The Inspector-General of Forests, Simla, will answer calls for further information.

17. Tenders must be submitted on forms to be obtained from the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, and must be accompanied by a receipt for the payment into any Government Treasury of a sum of Rs. 1,500 in cash or in Government securities. This deposit will be returned to unsuccessful tenderers, but in the case of persons whose tenders have been accepted will be subject to forfeiture in the event of their failure to execute within the time specified the agreement referred to below.

18. All persons whose tenders have been accepted will be required to execute an agreement in a form approved by the Government of India, copies of which can be obtained on application to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, Simla. This agreement must be signed within three months of the acceptance of the tender.

19. Tenders, marked "Tender for Andamans Timber License", should be submitted so as to reach the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, Simla, on or before the 1st September 1915. The Government of India do not undertake to accept the highest or any tender either for padauk or for other timbers, or to assign any reasons for the refusal or acceptance of any tender.

20. Without the written sanction of the Government of India no transfer, assignment or sub-letting of their license by the licensees will be valid.

Secretary to the Government of India,
Department of Revenue and Agriculture

NAVIGATION OF THE HOOGHLY AT NIGHT BETWEEN MUD POINT AND SAUGOR.

No. 618 Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 16th February 1915.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A Report submitted in May 1913 by a Special Committee convened by the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta to consider the question of lighting the river Hooghly with a view to navigation by night.

READ ALSO—

Bengal Government Resolution No. 679 T.—Marine, dated the 20th July 1914, on the subject, and the letters from the Port Officer cited in the preamble of that Resolution.

The report of a further Committee of expert navigators appointed by Government to test the adequacy of the lighting provided by the Port Commissioners and

A Report from the Port Commissioners in No. 10900, dated the 22nd December 1914, informing Government that this Committee's recommendations have been carried out.

IN 1913 the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, on the report of a Special Committee convened by them, submitted for the consideration of Government a scheme for lighting the river Hooghly between Mud Point and Saugor with a view to the navigation of vessels in the lower reaches of the river by night. The Special Committee which recommended this scheme consisted of—

The Hon'ble Sir F. G. Dumayne, Vice-Chairman, Port Commissioners, Calcutta.
Captain C. S. Hewett, Deputy Director, Royal Indian Marine.
Captain F. A. Lovell, R.N.R., Deputy Commissioner, Calcutta Port Trust.
Mr. C. G. Stock, Branch Pilot.
,, A. W. Turner, Branch Pilot.

Their proposals had the entire support of the Calcutta Liners' Conference and the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, but the Pilot Service as a body was opposed to the scheme. They did not, however, object to night navigation in itself; rather they distrusted the adequacy of the lighting which the Port Commissioners proposed to provide.

2. After very careful consideration of the matter in consultation with the Port Officer, Calcutta, Government came to the conclusion that night navigation might be permitted provided the river was properly lighted, and accordingly approved generally the scheme submitted by the Port Commissioners, subject to a further report by a Committee of practical navigators consisting of—

Commander Vines, R.I.M., Port Officer, Calcutta.
Mr. Stock, Branch Pilot.
Mr. Moore, Senior Master Pilot.
Captain Robertson, Master of the S. S. Media.
,, Vincent, Master of the S. S. Collegian, and Commander Constable, R.N., Assistant Conservator of the Port of Calcutta.

These gentlemen were asked by Government to test the adequacy and efficiency of the lighting.

3. This Committee made several trial trips through the lighted stretch at night, and unanimously reported that it was navigable with safety between the hours of sunset and sunrise if additional lights were provided in certain places indicated by them and if some other improvements which they thought desirable were carried out. The Committee's recommendations have been given effect to by the Port Commissioners, who have reported that the scheme for night navigation is now complete.

4. His Excellency in Council is now pleased to remove the restriction to night navigation in that part of the river which has been lighted, namely the stretch between Mud Point and Saugor. For the present, however, owing to the War, night navigation will only be allowed in the case of ships going down the river. It must also be understood that night navigation is not compulsory. In unfavourable conditions, whether by night or day, it must be left to the discretion of the Pilot whether he should proceed or not with the vessel in his charge

5. Government also approves the rules which the Port Officer has submitted for regulation of traffic in the lighted portion of the river. These rules will be embodied in the Code of Regulations for the Bengal Pilot Service, which will also now be amended in respect of night navigation between Mud Point and Saugor.

ORDER :—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of it be forwarded to the Port Officer, Calcutta, for information and for communication to the members of the Bengal Pilot Service; to the Vice-Chairman, Port Commissioners, Calcutta, for the information of the Commissioners; also to the Secretary, Calcutta Liners' Conference, and to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce for information and for communication to those concerned.

By order of the Governor in Council,

F. A. A. COWLEY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Third and Final Report on the Winter Rice crop of Bengal, 1914-15.

Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1912-13, the area under winter rice in Bengal represents some 19·8 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.]

Character of the Season.—In the second forecast the weather was generally reported to be unfavourable owing to insufficiency of rainfall in August, September and October. November was also practically rainless and the result was very serious for the crop, especially on high lands. The slight rainfall at the end of December did little good to the crop as it was then ripe for harvesting.

Acreage.—According to the figures furnished by District Officers, the area sown this year is 15,084,300 acres against 14,539,600 acres last year, or an increase of about 4 per cent. The increase is due to the favourable weather conditions at the beginning of the season.

Outturn.—In Howrah, Rangpur and Mymensingh a better crop has been harvested than was anticipated, when the second forecast was issued; but in fifteen districts (viz., 24-Parganas, Khulna, Birbhum, Midnapur, Hooghly, Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Pabna, Dacca, Faridpur, Bakarganj, Tippera, Noakhali and the Chittagong Hill Tracts), the estimates of District Officers fall below those of the previous forecast. The falling off in the case of Khulna, Birbhum, Midnapore, Faridpur, Bakarganj, and the Chittagong Hill Tracts is considerable. In the remaining districts the estimates are unchanged.

From the Appendix I attached it will be seen that Mymensingh is the only district which reports a normal crop; eight districts return percentages between 80 and 90; fourteen districts percentages between 60 and 75; three districts percentages between 50 and 58, while Malda reports a crop as low as 15 per cent.

According to District Officers' estimates the provincial outturn works out to 72 per cent. of the normal against 92 per cent. of the last year.

On the basis of the normal yield of 12 maunds of clean grain per acre the total outturn as worked out from District Officers' estimates amounts to 95,751,400 cwts. against 117,931,000 cwts. of last year, or a decrease of about 19 per cent.

Third and final report on Winter Rice Crop of 1914-15.

District.	Estimated normal area under winter rice.	Estimated area under winter rice.		Taking 100 to represent the normal, what would be the average outturn per acre cropped—		Date by which the harvesting generally commenced this year, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
		Last year (1913-14).	This year (1914-15).	Last year.	This year.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
	Acres	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	899,700	777,700	785,100	75	67	November. Normal.	The increase over last year's area is due to timely rainfall and favourable weather during the sowing season and at the first stage of agricultural operations. Considerable damage to the crop has been done by insect-pests in Diamond Harbour and Basirhat subdivisions by salt-water in Sonarpur police-station of the Sadar subdivision and by drought throughout the district generally. Hence the low outturn.
Nadia ...	136,800	124,800	134,600	83	58	Middle of November. Normal.	The weather has not been favourable. Much damage has been done to the crop by drought and also by flood in the Kushtea subdivision. Hence the low outturn.
Murshidabad ...	345,600	288,600	315,900	92	75	December. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of the last year is due to favourable weather conditions at the time of sowing. The weather has not been favourable since then. The crop was damaged by insect pests to the extent of 2 annas in Jangipur, Kandi and Sadar subdivisions and by drought to the extent of 4 annas. Hence the outturn has fallen below the normal.
Jessore ...	568,100	406,100	411,400	62	57	November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of the last year is due to favourable weather at the time of sowing and transplantation. The crop was, however, subsequently damaged by untimely rain and flood throughout the district but especially in Bongong and Jhenidah subdivisions. For the above reasons the outturn has fallen below the normal.
Khulna ...	745,300*	732,500	748,000	100	69	Beginning of November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of the last year is due to gradual reclamation of jungles in some thanas in the Bagerhat and Satkhira subdivisions and the extension of the crop in those tracts. The normal area given in column 2 has also been revised for the same reason. Weather conditions have been unfavourable owing to cessation of rainfall since the end of September. The extent of damage from drought may be estimated at about 4 annas on the whole.
Burdwan ...	874,800	746,000	760,000	100	67	End of November. Normal.	The slight increase over last year's area is due to favourable conditions at the time of sowing. The subsequent cessation of rainfall has reduced the outturn by at least 4 annas.
Birbhum ...	604,600	586,100	604,600	117	67	End of November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of the last year is due to good rainfall at the beginning of the year. The weather conditions have not been favourable since. About 4 annas of the crop has been damaged owing to continued drought.
Bankura ...	510,600	480,000	481,500	83	85	December. Normal.	The weather was favourable at first but the rains failed in September and October. Slight damage was also caused by insects. Hence the outturn has fallen below the normal.
Midnapore ...	1,403,000	1,112,400	1,574,900	60	67	End of November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of the last year is due to favourable weather conditions at the time of sowing. Early cessation of rainfall hampered the growth and maturity of the crop. About 33 per cent. was damaged by drought and insect-pests.
Hooghly ...	276,700	240,600	248,400	84	71	Ditto ...	The increase in area as compared with that of last year is due to timely rainfall at the beginning of the season. The subsequent growth of the crop was much affected as there was no rain from October last. The outturn has therefore fallen below the normal.
Howrah ...	125,200	99,500	103,300	67	67	End of November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of the last year is due to timely rainfall at the sowing season. Weather conditions have not been favourable since. About four annas of the crop has been damaged by drought in September and October. Hence the low outturn.
Rajshahi ...	697,000	479,700	492,000	105	70	First week of December. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of the last year is due to extension of cultivation in the Nator subdivision. The crop was greatly damaged for want of rain in October. Hence the low outturn.

	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Dinajpur ...	1,130,300	1,016,400	900,800	103	50	Latter part of November. Normal.	The decrease in area as compared with that of the last year is due to want of timely rainfall. Continued drought stunted the growth of the plants and killed the high land crop causing the outturn to fall by 50 per cent.
Jalpaiguri ...	551,300	492,400	408,000	85	72	December. Normal.	The decrease in area sown this year is due to want of timely rainfall and to the extension of jute cultivation. Deficient rainfall also affected the growth of the crop. Hence the low outturn.
ng ...	65,300	36,800	36,800	100	69	Harvesting has just commenced.	Weather was unfavourable on account of insufficient rainfall. The outturn has in consequence fallen much below the normal.
Rangpur ...	832,300	705,000	582,300	114	90	End of November. Normal.	The weather was not favourable during July, August, and the first part of September. The rainfall during the latter part of September and in October did good to the crop. Want of rain at the early part of the season affected the growth of the crop which accounts for the outturn falling below the normal.
Bogra ...	303,000	303,000	303,000	95	60	Beginning of December. Normal.	The crop, specially on high lands, suffered much on account of deficiency of rainfall in September and continued absence of it from October last. Hence the low outturn.
Pabna ...	566,000	470,000	470,000	100	82	End of November. Normal.	Want of rain during September and October affected the crop on high land. Hence the outturn is estimated at 82 per cent.
Malda ...	300,000	309,000	300,000	125	45	End of October. Early.	The weather was favourable at first but the growth of the crop was retarded owing to drought prevailing since the end of September.
Dacca ...	633,100	587,300	597,300	73	80	Middle of November. Normal.	Rainfall at the beginning of the season was favourable to the cultivation and growth of the crop, but later on it was adversely affected by continued drought. Rain at the time of harvesting was also unfavourable. Slight damage was also caused by insects in the Keraniganj thana. Outturn is below the normal for the reasons stated above.
Mymensingh ...	1,126,700	962,700	966,500	88	100	Beginning of December. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of last year is due to revision of estimates in the Netrakona subdivision. The weather has been favourable to the cultivation and growth of the crop. Subdivisional Officer of Netrakona reports that about 25 per cent. of the crop was damaged by "Lohajuri" insects and want of timely rainfall. The outturn is on the whole normal. It would have been still better but for the damage done to the crop in the Netrakona subdivision.
Faridpur ...	770,100*	422,800	661,000	70	80	Middle of November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of last year is due to revision of estimates on the basis of cadastral survey. Insufficient rain in October adversely affected the growth of the crop. Hence the outturn has fallen by about 20 per cent. below the normal.
Bakarganj ...	1,300,000	1,295,000	1,285,000	110	60	December. Normal.	The weather has not been favourable. The falling off in the outturn is due to total failure of rain from the time of transplanting till the middle of December.
Chittagong ...	418,400	421,800	425,000	95	80	Last week of November. Normal.	Increase in area as compared with that of last year is due to extension of cultivation. The weather has not been favourable on account of insufficient rainfall in September and October and unseasonable rain in December.
Tippera ...	724,800	760,000	820,000	80	75	Middle of November. Early.	Increase in area is due to the fact that damaged jute fields were sown with paddy. The weather has not been favourable owing to insufficient rainfall. Some damage was done by drought and in places by insect-pests.
Noakhali ...	566,900	632,500	633,000	100	80	Middle of November. Normal.	There has been no change since the submission of the second forecast except that the estimated outturn has fallen down, owing to continued drought from October last and to damage caused by rains when harvesting was in progress.
Chittagong Hill Tracts.	47,500†	51,400	38,000	90	50	December. Normal.	The crop was greatly damaged owing to want of timely rainfall for months and to the excessive rain at the time of harvesting. This accounts for the low outturn.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 15th February 1915.

Summary.—During the week under review light showers fell in Jessore and in most of the Eastern Bengal districts. The rain has greatly helped the ploughing operations for jute and other bhadoi crops and was also favourable to the standing rabi crops, the prospects of which are reported to be fairly satisfactory. Harvesting of rabi crops and pressing of sugarcane continue. Cattle-disease is reported from ten districts. The average price of common rice for the Province has risen by about 0·4 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

I. The Governor-General in Council is pleased hereby to declare that acetylene, when liquid or when subject to a pressure above that of the atmosphere capable of supporting a column of water exceeding two hundred and fifty inches in height, and whether or not in admixture with other substances, or when in admixture with atmospheric air or with oxygen gas in whatever proportion and at whatever pressure, and whether or not in admixture with other substances, shall be deemed to be an explosive within the meaning of the said Act subject to the following exception that if it be shown to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council that acetylene declarad to be an explosive by this Notification when in admixture with any substance or in any form or condition, is not possessed of explosive properties, the Governor-General in Council may, by order, exempt such acetylene from being deemed to be an explosive within the meaning of the said Act :

Provided that nothing in this Notification shall apply to acetylene in admixture with air when such admixture takes place only in a burner or contrivance in which the mixture is intended to be burnt :

Provided also, that nothing in this Notification shall be held to apply to an admixture of acetylene and air which may unavoidably occur in the first use or recharging of an apparatus, properly designed and constructed with a view to the production of pure acetylene :

Provided also, that, subject to the conditions hereinafter specified, acetylene, when in admixture with oil-gas (that is to say, a gas manufactured from mineral oil), shall not be deemed to be an explosive within the meaning of the said Act, when under compression—

(1) The acetylene shall be generated only by the Atkins Dry Process.

(2) The proportion of acetylene shall not exceed fifty parts by volume in every one hundred parts of the mixture of acetylene and oil-gas.

DRAFT RULES.

1. Wherever mooring posts have been put up by the Supervisor, vessels must be made fast by the bow and stern along the banks to such posts, or in such other manner as the Supervisor may direct.

2. As the water falls, the bow and stern ropes must be slackened, and boats gradually pushed towards the centre of the canal; when the flood comes in these two ropes must be gradually hauled in, and the boat kept as close to the bank as possible.

3. In portions of the canals where only one towing-path exists, vessels must be moored on the off-side, and the towing-path side must always be kept clear.

4. Only one boat is allowed to make fast along and in line with the canal banks, and no boat is to be made fast or be placed outside of boats so secured without the special permission of the Supervisor. No boat or raft is to be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other boats, or obstruct the passage of other boats; but all boats are to be placed in such places and in such a manner as the Supervisor or Inspector may at any time direct.

5. The Supervisor may, by notification, prohibit the dropping of anchors or the putting up of bamboos or luggees in any part of the canals or banks, and in such part no anchors must be dropped or bamboos or luggees put up.

6. Boats whilst loading or unloading in the canals are allowed to use ladders, but the ladders must be gradually taken in as the water rises.

7. In order to avoid collision and confusion, boats waiting for a favourable tide at the junction of two or more rivers must be moored at a distance of not less than 1,000 feet from the point of junction.

8. No person is allowed to place any obstruction on the canal banks, roads, drains or bridges (when such are on canal land) so as to impede a free passage along them, or cause injury to them, or to commit a nuisance, or deposit filth of any sort on the banks, bridges or roads or in the canals.

9. No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the canals.

10. In every case of wreck caused by negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor and his subordinates must give all possible assistance in removing the same.

11. A notice must be affixed on a wreck when recovered, calling on those concerned to pay to the Supervisor all tolls which may be due, or any fine which may have been adjudged, as well as the expenses incurred in the recovery or removal of the wreck; and intimating that if the sum be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the boat and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold, the proceeds of the sale being dealt with as directed in section 9 of the Canals Act, 1864.

12. Every Canal officer is authorized to remove any vessel, anchor, pole or other thing which he may find in a position which is in contravention of these rules, and to deal with it in such a manner as may be necessary to give effect to the rules.

13. Whenever any laden vessel is seized by a Canal Officer, it is the duty of the Supervisor to give immediate notice of the same to the owner or his agent, requiring the removal of the cargo without delay, and informing him that he will be required to pay all expenses necessary for the proper custody and storage of the same.

14. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or abode of the owner of the cargo of any vessel or boat seized under the said Act, he must notify the seizure by advertisement in his office and in one or more of the public newspapers. Such notice shall require the owner to cause the immediate removal of the cargo, and to pay any necessary expenses incurred in providing for its proper custody and storage.

15. The Supervisor may incur whatever expense he may think necessary for the proper custody and storage of the cargo of any vessel seized under the Act, and if the cargo be not removed within ten days from the date of seizure, he may sell the same at public auction to the highest bidder, after giving ten days' notice of the same by advertisement in his office and in one or more of the public newspapers.

16. The money realized at such a sale is to be applied, in the first instance, to defray any expenditure that may have been incurred by the Supervisor on account of the cargo sold and the balance, if any, is to be held in deposit to be paid to the owner of the said cargo on his applying for the same.

17. No officer of any description or rank employed on the canal shall, either directly or indirectly, bid for or purchase any articles sold under these rules or under the provisions of the Act.

18. Any person (other than the Supervisor or his subordinates) who, either personally, or by his servant, infringes any of these rules, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for any one infringement, and to a fine not exceeding five rupees a day for any continued infringement.

22. (1) Where, by virtue of this Order or otherwise, any Imperial Act, or any Law in force in India, or any Order in Council other than this Order or any Rules or Regulations thereunder is or are applicable in any place within the limits of this Order, such Act, Law, Order in Council, Rules, or Regulations, shall be deemed applicable so far only as the constitution and jurisdiction of the Courts acting under this Order and the local circumstances permit, and, for the purpose of facilitating the application of any such Act, Law, Order in Council, Rules or Regulations, it or they may be construed with such alterations and adaptations not affecting the substance as may be necessary, and anything by such Act, Law, Order in Council, Rules, or Regulations required to be done by or to any Court, Judge, officer, or authority may be done by or to a Court, Judge, officer, or authority having the like or analogous functions, or by or to any officer designated by the Court for that purpose, and the seal of the Court may be substituted for any seal required by any such Act, Law, Order in Council, Rules or Regulations; and in case any difficulty occurs in the application of any such Act, Law, Order in Council, Rules or Regulations, it shall be lawful for the Secretary of State to direct by and to whom, and in what manner, anything to be done thereunder is to be done, and such Act, Law, Order in Council, Rules, or Regulations shall, in its or their application to matters arising within the limits of this Order, be construed accordingly.

(2) Where under any such Imperial Act, Law, Order in Council, Rules or Regulations any publication is required to be made as respects any judicial proceeding in any Gazette or otherwise, such publication shall in Abyssinia be made in such newspaper or by such other mode as the Court shall think fit to direct.

Assessors.

23. An Assessor shall be a competent and impartial British subject or foreigner of good repute, resident in the district of the particular Court, and nominated and summoned by the Court for the purpose of acting as Assessor, provided that no foreigner shall be nominated or summoned to act as Assessor if a suitable British subject is available, and provided also that the validity of any proceedings in which a foreigner has acted as Assessor shall not be questioned on the ground that there was a suitable British subject available to act as Assessor.

24. There shall ordinarily be not fewer than two, and not more than four, Assessors. Where, however, by reason of local circumstances, the Court is able to obtain the presence of one Assessor only, the Court may, if it thinks fit, sit with one Assessor only; and where, for like reasons, the Court is not able to obtain the presence of any Assessor, the Court may, if it thinks fit, sit without an Assessor—the Court, in every case, recording in the Minutes its reasons for sitting with one Assessor only or without an Assessor.

25. An Assessor shall not have any voice in the decision of the Court in any case, civil or criminal; but an Assessor dissenting, in a civil case, from any decision of the Court, or, in a criminal case, from any decision of the Court or the conviction or the amount of punishment awarded, may record in the Minutes his dissent, and the grounds thereof, and shall be entitled to receive, without payment, a certified copy of the Minutes.

26. Any British subject failing to attend as Assessor, on being summoned, shall be deemed guilty of a contempt of Court, and shall be liable to a fine not exceeding £10.

PART III.—CRIMINAL MATTERS.

27. Except as regards offences against any Treaties between His Majesty the King and Abyssinia, or against any Rules and Regulations for the observance thereof, or for the maintenance of order among British subjects in Abyssinia, made by or under the authority of His Majesty or against any of the provisions of this Order—

Any act done by a British subject in Abyssinia that would not by a Court of Justice having criminal jurisdiction in British India be deemed a crime or offence making the person doing the act amenable to punishment in British India, shall not, in the exercise of criminal jurisdiction under this Order, be deemed a crime or offence making the person doing the act amenable to punishment.

28. Subject to the provisions of this Order, criminal jurisdiction under this Order shall, so far as circumstances admit, be exercised on the principles of, and in conformity with, the law in force in British India for the time being, and with the powers vested in the Courts of Justice and the Magistrate therein, according to their respective jurisdiction and authority.

29. In cases of murder or manslaughter, if either the death, or the criminal act which wholly or partly caused the death, happened within the jurisdiction of a Court acting under this Order, such Court shall have the like jurisdiction over any person to whom this Order applies who is charged either as the principal offender, or as accessory before the fact to murder or as accessory after the fact to murder or manslaughter, as if both such criminal act and the death had happened within such jurisdiction.

30. Every Court may cause to be apprehended and brought before it any British subject being within the district of the Court and charged with having committed a crime or offence within Abyssinia, and deal with the accused according to the jurisdiction of the Court and in conformity with the provisions of this Order.

31. For the purposes of criminal jurisdiction, every offence and cause of complaint committed or arising in Abyssinia shall be deemed to have been committed or to have arisen, either in the place where the same actually was committed or arose, or in any place in Abyssinia where the person charged or complained of happens to be at the time of the institution or commencement of the charge or complaint.

32. (1) Where a British subject charged with a crime or offence escapes or removes from the Consular district within which the crime or offence was committed, and is found within another Consular district, the Court within whose district he is found may proceed in the case to preliminary examination or to trial and punishment (as the case may require), in like manner as if the crime or offence had been committed in its own district; or may, on the requisition or with the consent of the Court within whose district the crime or offence was committed, send him in custody to that Court, or require him to give security for his surrender to that Court, there to answer the charge and to be dealt with according to law.

(2) Where any person is to be so sent in custody, a warrant shall be issued by the Court within whose district he is found, and that warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and to carry him to and deliver him up to the Court within whose district the crime or offence was committed, according to the warrant.

Apprehension and Custody of Accused Persons.

33. (1) Where a person accused of an offence is arrested on a warrant issuing out of any Court, he shall be brought before the Court within forty-eight hours after the execution of the warrant, unless in any case circumstances unavoidably prevent his being brought before the Court within that time, which circumstances shall be recorded in the Minutes.

(2) In every case he shall be brought before the Court as soon as circumstances reasonably admit, and the time and circumstances shall be recorded in the Minutes.

34. (1) Where an accused person is in custody, he shall not be remanded at any time for more than seven days, unless circumstances appear to the Court to make it necessary or proper that he should be remanded for a longer time, which circumstances, and the time of remand, shall be recorded in the Minutes.

(2) In no case shall a remand be for more than fourteen days at one time unless in case of illness of the accused or other case of necessity.

35. Where any person is charged with any offence, and the trial thereof will take place before any Abyssinian Tribunal, or where any person has been sentenced to imprisonment by any Abyssinian Tribunal, the Court may, either by separate warrant or by endorsement on the warrant of the Abyssinian Tribunal, cause such person to be detained in custody either pending his trial or while he is serving his sentence, as the case may be.

36. (1) The Court may, in its discretion, admit to bail a person accused of any of the following offences, namely :—

Any felony.

Riot.

Assault on any officer in the execution of his duty, or on any person acting in his aid.

Neglect or breach of duty by an officer.

But a person accused of treason or murder shall not be admitted to bail except by, or under the direction of, the Court of the Consul-General.

(2) In all other cases the Court shall admit the accused to bail unless the Court, having regard to the circumstances, sees good reason to the contrary, which reason shall be recorded in the Minutes.

(3) The Court of the Consul-General may admit a person to bail, although a Provincial Court has not thought fit to do so.

(4) The accused who is to be admitted to bail either on remand or on or after trial ordered, shall produce such surety or sureties as, in the opinion of the Court, will be sufficient to insure his appearance as and when required, and shall with him or them enter into a recognizance accordingly.

37. (1) Where a person is charged with the commission of a crime or offence the cognizance whereof appertains to the Court, and it is expedient that the crime or offence be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished within His Majesty's dominions elsewhere than in England, the accused may (under the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, section 4) be sent for trial to Aden or Bombay.

(2) The Consul-General may, where it appears so expedient, by warrant under his hand and seal, cause the accused to be sent for trial to Aden or Bombay (as the case may require) accordingly.

(3) The warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and to carry him to and deliver him up to Aden or Bombay (as the case may be), according to the warrant.

(4) Where any person is to be so sent to Aden or Bombay, the Court before which he is charged shall take the preliminary examination, and shall bind over such of the proper witnesses as are British subjects in their own recognizances to appear and give evidence on the trial.

38. (1) All crimes which in British India are capital shall, subject to the provisions of this Order, be tried by the Consul-General, with an Assessor or Assessors.

(2) The Consul General shall have an original jurisdiction to try all other crimes and offences. Where imprisonment for more than one year can be inflicted, the Consul-General shall, if practicable, try the case with an Assessor or Assessors.

39. (1) When the crime or offence with which a person is charged before a Provincial Court is any crime or offence other than assault endangering life, cutting, maiming, arson, or housebreaking, and appears to the Court to be such that, if proved, it would be adequately punished by imprisonment. with or without hard labour, for not more than three months, or by a fine of not more than £20, the Court shall hear and determine the case by summary trial and without Assessors.

(2) In other cases the Court shall, subject to the provisions of this Order, hear and determine the case on a charge and with Assessors.

40. (1) Where the crime or offence with which an accused person is charged before a Provincial Court appears to the Court to be such that, if proved, it would not be adequately punished by such punishment as the Court has power to impose, and the accused is not to be sent for trial to a British possession, the Court shall reserve the case to be heard and determined by or under the direction of the Consul-General.

(2) The Court shall take the depositions, and forthwith send them with a minute of other evidence, if any, and a report on the case, to the Consul-General.

(3) The Consul-General shall direct in what mode and where, consistently with the provisions of this Order, the case shall be heard and determined, and the same shall be so heard and determined accordingly.

Summary Procedure.

41. Where the complaint discloses an offence which is not required to be heard on a charge and the Court does not think fit to direct it to be heard on a charge, the accused may be tried summarily on the complaint: provided that no greater punishment shall be imposed than imprisonment with or without hard labour for three months, or a fine of £20, or both.

Preliminary Examination.

42. (1) Where the accused is before the Court, and it appears to the Court that the complaint discloses an offence—

(a) which ought to be tried in or reported to another Court; or the Court shall forthwith so inform the accused, and proceed to make a preliminary examination in the prescribed manner.

(b) which ought to be tried before the same Court with Assessors;

(2) If after such preliminary examination the accused is ordered to be tried, the Court shall bind by recognizance the prosecutor and every witness to appear at the trial to prosecute, or to prosecute and give evidence or to give evidence (as the case may be).

43. (1) If a British subject, having appeared as prosecutor or witness at a preliminary examination, refuses to enter into a recognizance to appear at the trial to prosecute, or give evidence, the Court may send him to prison, there to remain until after the trial, unless in the meantime he enters into a recognizance.

(2) But if afterwards, from want of sufficient evidence or other cause, the accused is discharged, the Court shall order that the person imprisoned for so refusing be also discharged.

(3) Where the prosecutor or witness is not a British subject, the Court may require him either to enter into a recognizance or to give other security for his attendance at the trial, and, if he fails to do so, may in its discretion dismiss the charge.

44. (1) The charge upon which an accused person is tried shall state the offence charged, with such particulars as to the time and place of the alleged offence, and the person (if any) against whom or the thing (if any) in respect of which it was committed, as are reasonably sufficient to give the accused notice of the matter with which he is charged.

(2) The fact that a charge is made is equivalent to a statement that every condition required by law to constitute the offence charged was fulfilled in the particular case.

(3) Where the nature of the case is such that the particulars abovementioned do not give such sufficient notice as aforesaid, the charge shall also contain such particulars of the manner in which the alleged offence was committed as will give such sufficient notice.

(4) For the purposes of the application of any Statute law, a charge framed under the provisions of this Order shall be deemed to be an indictment.

45. For every distinct offence of which any person is accused there shall be a separate charge and every such charge shall be tried separately, except in the cases following, that is to say :—

(a) Where a person is accused of more offences than one of the same kind committed within the space of twelve months from the first to the last of such offences, he may be charged with, and tried at one trial for, any number of them not exceeding three.

(b) If in one series of acts so connected together as to form the same transaction more offences than one are committed by the same person, he may be charged with, and tried at one trial for, every such offence.

(c) If the acts alleged constitute an offence falling within two or more definitions or descriptions of offences in any law or laws, the accused may be charged with, and tried at one trial for, each of such offences.

(d) If several acts constitute several offences, and also when combined a different offence, the accused may be charged with, and tried at one trial for, the offence constituted by such acts when combined, or one or more of the several offences, but in the latter case shall not be punished with more severe punishment than the Court which tries him could award for any one of those offences.

(e) If a single act or series of acts is of such a nature that it is doubtful which of several offences the facts which can be proved will constitute, the accused may be charged with having committed all or any of such offences, and any number of such charges may be tried at once; or he may be charged in the alternative with having committed some one of the offences; and if it appears in evidence that he has committed a different offence for which he might have been charged, he may be convicted of that offence, although not charged with it,

46. When more persons than one are accused of the same offence or of different offences committed in the same transaction, or when one is accused of committing an offence and another of abetting or attempting to commit that offence, they may be charged and tried together or separately, as the Court thinks fit.

47. (1) Any Court, if sitting with Assessors, may alter any charge at any time before the opinions of the Assessors are expressed; if sitting without Assessors, at any time before judgment is pronounced.

(2) Every such alteration shall be read and explained to the accused.

(3) If the altered charge is such that proceeding with the trial immediately is likely, in the opinion of the Court, to prejudice the accused or the prosecutor, the Court may adjourn the trial for such period as may be necessary.

48. (1) No error or omission in stating either the offence or the particulars shall be regarded at any stage of the case as material, unless the accused was misled by such error or omission.

(2) When the facts alleged in certain particulars are proved and constitute an offence, and the remaining particulars are not proved, the accused may be convicted of the offence constituted by the facts proved, although not charged with it.

(3) When a person is charged with an offence and the evidence proves either the commission of a minor offence or an attempt to commit the offence charged, he may be convicted of the minor offence or of the attempt.

49. (1) If the accused has been previously convicted of any offence, and it is intended to prove such conviction for the purpose of affecting the punishment which the Court is competent to award, the fact, date, and place of the previous conviction shall be stated in the charge.

(2) If such statement is omitted, the Court may add it at any time before sentence is passed.

(3) The part of the charge stating the previous conviction shall not be read out in Court, nor shall the accused be asked whether he has been previously convicted, as alleged in the charge, unless and until he has either pleaded guilty to, or been convicted of, the subsequent offence.

(4) If he pleads guilty to, or is convicted of, the subsequent offence, he shall then be asked whether he has been previously convicted, as alleged in the charge.

(5) If he answers that he has been so previously convicted, the Court may proceed to pass sentence on him accordingly, but, if he denies that he has been so previously convicted, or refuses to, or does not, answer such question, the Court shall then enquire concerning such previous conviction.

Punishments.

50. The powers of the Courts with respect to punishments are limited as follows:—

(1) The Court of the Consul-General may award in respect of an offence any punishment which may in respect of a similar offence be awarded in British India: provided that (a) imprisonment shall be substituted for penal servitude; and (b) the Court of the Consul-General shall not award a fine exceeding £500; or in case of a continuing offence, in addition to imprisonment or fine, or both, a fine exceeding £1 for each day during which the offence continues after conviction.

(2) A Provincial Court may award imprisonment, not exceeding twelve months, and with or without a fine not exceeding £100; or a fine not exceeding £100, without imprisonment; or in case of a continuing offence, in addition to imprisonment or fine or both, a fine not exceeding 10*s.* for each day during which the offence continues after conviction. Provided that where a case has been reported to the Court of the Consul-General for directions, and the Court of the Consul-General has directed that the case shall be tried in the Provincial Court, the Provincial Court may award imprisonment not exceeding five years, or a fine not exceeding £200, but if the punishment awarded is imprisonment for more than twelve months, or a fine exceeding £100, the sentence shall be subject to confirmation by the Court of the Consul-General.

(3) But nothing in this Article shall be deemed to empower any Court to award for any offence any punishment not authorized by law in relation to that offence.

51. Where any act or omission is, by virtue of this Order, or of any regulation made under this Order, an offence against this Order, and no penalty or punishment is specified in respect thereof, such offence shall be punishable with imprisonment for not exceeding three months, or fine not exceeding £100, or both.

52. (1) When any person is sentenced to suffer the punishment of death the Consul-General shall forthwith send a report of the sentence, with a copy of the Minutes of proceedings and notes of evidence in the case and with any observations he thinks fit, to the Secretary of State.

(2) The sentence shall not be carried into execution without the direction of the Secretary of State in writing under his hand,

(3) The Secretary of State, if he does not direct that the sentence of death be carried into execution, shall direct what punishment in lieu of the punishment of death is to be inflicted on the person convicted, and the person convicted shall be punished accordingly.

53. (1) The Court may order a person convicted before it, by summary trial or on a charge, to pay all or any specified part of the expenses of his prosecution, or of his imprisonment or other punishment, or of both.

(2) Where it appears to the Court that a charge is malicious, or frivolous and vexatious the Court may order the prosecutor to pay all or any specified part of the expenses of the prosecution.

Where such an arrangement is in force the Consul-General may issue a notification to that effect, and the Court shall take judicial notice thereof.

(d) does any act in relation to the Court or any member thereof, or a matter pending therein, which, if done in relation to a High Court in British India, would be punishable as a contempt of such Court, or as a libel on such Court, or the Judges thereof, or the administration of justice therein; such person shall be liable to be apprehended by order of the Court, with or without warrant, and on enquiry and consideration, and after the hearing of any defence which such person may offer, without further process or trial, to be punished with a fine not exceeding £5, or with imprisonment not exceeding twenty-four hours.

(2) A Minute shall be made and kept of every such case of punishment recording the facts of the offence, and the extent of the punishment, and a copy of the Minute shall be forthwith sent to the Secretary of State.

(3) Provided that, if the Court thinks fit, instead of proceeding under the preceding provisions, it may direct or cause the offender to be tried in a separate criminal prosecution or proceeding, in which the offender shall be liable to be tried and punished for his offence as an offence against this order.

(4) Nothing herein shall interfere with the power of the Court to remove or exclude a person who interrupts or obstructs the business of the Court.

70. If any person subject to the criminal jurisdiction of a Court does any act or makes any publication of such kind, and under such circumstances, that, in the opinion of the Court, great danger to public order is thereby occasioned, the Court shall have the same powers as it has in relation to apprehended breaches of the peace.

71. In the application by the Court in the exercise of its criminal jurisdiction of the provisions of the Penal Code relating to false evidence, the words "judicial proceeding" in the said Code shall be deemed to include a proceeding before an Abyssinian Court, or a Court in Abyssinia of any State in amity with His Majesty.

Deportation of Offender.

73.—(1) Where it is proved that there is reasonable ground to apprehend that a British subject is about to commit a breach of the public peace, or that the acts or conduct of a British subject are or is likely to produce or excite a breach of the public peace, the Court may, if it thinks fit (for reasons recorded in the Minutes), cause him to be brought before it and require him to give security, to the satisfaction of the Court, to keep the peace, or for his future good behaviour, as the case may require.

(2) Where a British subject is convicted of a crime or offence before the Court, or before a Court in the sentence of which one of His Majesty's Consular officers concurs, the Court for the district in which he is may, if it thinks fit, require him to give security to the satisfaction of the Court for his future good behaviour, and for that purpose may (if need be) cause him to be brought before the Court.

(3) In either of these cases, if the person required to give security fails to do so, the Court may order that he be deported from Abyssinia to such place as the Court directs.

(4) The place shall be a place in some part (if any) of His Majesty's dominions to which the person belongs, or the Government of which consents to the reception of persons deported under this Order.

(5) A Provincial Court shall report to the Consul-General any order of deportation made by it, and the grounds thereof, before the order is executed. The Consul-General may reverse the order, or may confirm it with or without variation, and in case of confirmation shall direct it to be carried into effect.

(6) The person to be deported shall be detained in custody until a fit opportunity for his deportation occurs.

(7) He shall, as soon as is practicable, and in the case of a person convicted, either after execution of the sentence or while it is in course of execution, be embarked in custody, under the warrant of the Consul-General, on board one of His Majesty's ships of war, or, if there is no such ship available, then on board any British or other fit vessel bound to the place of deportation.

(8) The warrant shall be sufficient authority to the commander or master of the vessel to receive and detain the person therein named, and to carry him to and deliver him up at the place named, according to the warrant.

(9) Where a warrant of deportation provides for further deportation from the place to which the person is first deported to some other place, the person shall, on his arrival at such first-mentioned place, be delivered with the warrant into the custody of the Chief Magistrate or officer of police at that place, who shall detain him, and shall forthwith report the case to the Governor or person administering the Government at that place, who shall either cause him to be further deported, with and in accordance with the warrant, and in the meantime to be detained in custody for any necessary period not exceeding three months, or, if the circumstances of the case appear to render his discharge expedient, shall discharge him from custody.

(10) The Court may order the person to be deported to pay all or any part of the expenses of his deportation. Subject thereto, the expenses of deportation shall be defrayed in such manner as the Secretary of State, with the concurrence of the Treasury, may direct.

(11) The Consul-General shall forthwith report to the Secretary of State any order of deportation made or confirmed by him, and the grounds thereof.

(12) If any person deported under this order returns to Abyssinia without permission in writing of the Secretary of State (which permission the Secretary of State may give), he shall be deemed guilty of an offence against this order, and shall, for every such offence, be liable to imprisonment for not more than one month, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of not more than £10, or to a fine of not more than £20 alone; and he shall also be liable to be forthwith again deported, and shall not be again entitled to registration under this order.

74. Where a person is convicted of any offence before any Court—

(a) if he considers the conviction erroneous in law, then, on his application, within the prescribed time (unless it appears merely frivolous, when it may be refused); or the Court shall state a case, setting out the facts and the grounds of the conviction, and the question of law, and send or deliver it to the Court of the Consul-General.

75.—(1) Where a case is stated under the last preceding Article, the Court, before whom the trial was had, shall, as it thinks fit, either postpone judgment on the conviction, or respite execution of the judgment, and either commit the person convicted to prison, or take security for him to appear and receive judgment, or to deliver himself for execution of the judgment (as the case may require) at an appointed time and place.

(2) The Court of the Consul-General, sitting without Assessors, shall hear and determine the matter, and thereupon shall reverse, affirm, or amend the judgment given, or set it aside, and order an entry to be made in the Minutes that, in the judgment of the Court of the Consul-General, the person ought not to have been convicted or order judgment to be given at a subsequent sitting of the Provincial Court, or order a new trial, or make such other order as the Court of the Consul-General thinks just, and shall also give all necessary and proper consequential directions.

(3) The judgment of the Court of the Consul-General shall be delivered in open Court, after the public hearing of any argument offered on behalf of the prosecutor or of the person convicted.

(4) Before delivering judgment, the Court of the Consul-General may, if necessary, cause the case to be amended by the Provincial Court.

(5) The Court of the Consul-General shall not annul a conviction or sentence, or vary a sentence, or order a new trial, on the ground—

(b) of any error in the summoning of Assessors; or

(c) of any person having served as Assessor who was not qualified; or

(d) of any objection to any person as Assessor which might have been raised before or at the trial; or

(e) of any informality in the swearing of any witness; or

(f) of any error or omission in the charge, or any informality in procedure which, in the opinion of the Court of the Consul-General, did not affect the substance of the case or subject the convicted person to any undue prejudice.

76. There shall be no appeal in a criminal case to His Majesty the King in Council from a decision of the Court of the Consul-General, except by special leave of His Majesty in Council.

General Provisions.

(1) Where a British subject dies in Abyssinia, any other such subject having in his possession, or under his control, any paper or writing of the deceased, being, or purporting to be testamentary, shall forthwith bring the original to the Court within whose particular jurisdiction the death happens, and deposit it there.

If any person fails to do so for fourteen days after having knowledge of the death of the deceased, he shall be guilty of an offence, and liable to a fine not exceeding £50.

(2) Where it is proved that any paper of the deceased, being or purporting to be testamentary, is in the possession or under the control of a British subject, the Court may, whether a suit or proceeding respecting probate or administration is pending or not, order him to produce the paper and bring it into Court.

(3) Where it appears to the Court that there are reasonable grounds for believing that any person has knowledge of any paper being or purporting to be testamentary (although it is not shown that the paper is in his possession or under his control), the Court may, whether a suit or proceeding for probate or administration is pending or not, order that he be examined respecting it before the Court or elsewhere, and that he do attend for that purpose, and after examination order that he do produce the paper and deposit it in Court.

99. Where it appears to the Court that the value of the property or estate of a deceased British subject does not exceed £100, the Court may, without any probate or letters of administration, or other formal proceeding, pay thereout any debts or charges, and pay, remit, or deliver any surplus to such persons in such manner as the Secretary of State from time to time directs, and shall not be liable to any action, suit, or proceedings in respect of anything done under this Act.

100. The Foreign Jurisdiction Probates Order in Council. 1908, shall apply to all persons and to all property subject to this Order.

101. Section 51 of the Conveyancing (Scotland) Act, 1874, and any enactment for the time being in force amending or substituted for the same, are hereby extended to Abyssinia, with the adaptation following, namely :—

The Court of the Consul-General is hereby substituted for a Court of Probate in a Colony.

Appeal to Consul-General.

102. (1) Where an action in a Provincial Court involves the amount of value of £25 or upwards, any party aggrieved by any decision of that Court, with or without Assessors, in the action shall have the right to appeal to the Court of the Consul-General against the same, on such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by Rules of Court.

(2) In any other case, the Provincial Court may, if it seems just and expedient, give leave to appeal on like terms.

(3) In any case the Court of the Consul-General may give leave to appeal on such terms as seem just.

103. (1) The Court of the Consul-General may, if it thinks fit, on the application of any party, or of its own motion, order a rehearing of an action, or of an appeal, or of any arguments on a verdict or on any other question of law.

(2) The provisions of this Order respecting a hearing with Assessors shall extend to a rehearing of an action.

(3) If the party applying for a rehearing has by any order been ordered to pay money or do any other thing, the Court may direct either that the order be carried into execution, or that the execution thereof be suspended pending the rehearing, as it thinks fit.

(4) If the Court directs the order to be carried into execution, the party in whose favour it is given shall before the execution give security to the satisfaction of the Court for the performance of such order as shall be made on the rehearing.

(5) If the Court directs the execution of the order to be supended, the party against whom it is given shall, before an order for suspension is given, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for performance of such order as shall be made on the rehearing.

(6) An application for a rehearing shall be made within the prescribed time.

Appeal to His Majesty in Council.

104 No appeal shall lie from the Court of the Consul-General, except in cases where leave to appeal to His Majesty the King in Council is granted either by the Court of the Consul-General or by His Majesty in Council.

PART V.—PROCEDURE, CIVIL AND CRIMINAL.

105. Summonses, orders, and other documents issuing from the Court shall be sealed with the seal of the Court.

106. (1) In every case, civil or criminal, Minutes of the proceedings shall be drawn up, and shall be signed, by the Consular officer before whom the proceedings are taken, and shall, where the suit is heard with Assessors, be open for their inspection and for their signature if concurred in by them.

(2) These Minutes, with the depositions of witnesses, and the notes of evidence taken at the hearing or trial by the Consular officer, shall be preserved in the office of the Court.

107. Every Provincial Court shall execute any writ, order, or warrant issuing from the Court of the Consul-General and shall take security from any person named therein for his appearance, personally, or by attorney, according to the writ, order or warrant, or may cause such person to be taken in custody or otherwise to the Court of the Consul-General or elsewhere in Abyssinia according to the writ, order or warrant.

108. The Consul-General may make Rules of Court—

(a) For regulating the pleading practice and procedure in the Courts established under this Order with respect to all matters within the jurisdiction of the respective Courts;

(b) For regulating the means by which particular facts may be proved in the said Courts;

(c) For prescribing any forms to be used;

(d) For prescribing or regulating the duties of the officers of the said Courts;

(e) For prescribing scales of costs and regulating any matters in connection therewith;

(f) For prescribing and enforcing the fees to be taken in respect of any proceedings under this Order, not exceeding, as regards any matters provided for by the Consular Salaries and Fees Act, 1891, fees fixed and allowed from time to time by any Order in Council made under that Act;

(g) For prescribing the allowances to be made in criminal cases to complainants, witnesses, Assessors, interpreters, medical practitioners, and other persons employed in the administration of justice, and the conditions upon which an order may be made by the Court for such allowances;

(h) For taking and transmitting depositions of witnesses for use at trials in a British possession or in the United Kingdom;

(i) For regulating the mode in which legal practitioners are to be admitted to practise as such, and for withdrawing or suspending the right to practise on grounds of misconduct, subject to a right of appeal to His Majesty in Council;

(k) For prescribing and enforcing the fees to be taken in respect of proceedings in or by any Consular Court in relation to cases in Abyssinian Tribunals to which any British subject may be a party;

(l) For regulating the management and investment of property under the control of the said Courts;

(m) For regulating the procedure at inquests.

Where a power to make Rules is given by any Indian Act or law which is applicable to Abyssinia, the powers of this article shall include a power to make such Rules for the purposes of that Act or law so far as applicable.

Rules framed under this article shall not have effect until approved by the Secretary of State, and, so far as they relate to fees and costs, sanctioned by the Treasury; but in case of urgency declared in any such Rules the same shall have effect unless and until they are disapproved by the Secretary of State, and notification of such disapproval is recorded and published by the Consul-General.

Until such Rules have been made, or in relation to matters to which they do not extend, a Court may adopt and use any procedure or forms heretofore in use in the Consular Courts in Abyssinia, or any Regulations or Rules made thereunder and in force immediately before the commencement of this Order, with any modifications or adaptations which may be necessary.

109 The Court may, in any case, if it thinks fit, on account of the poverty of a party, or for any other reason, dispense with the payment of any fee, in whole or in part.

110. (1) Every person doing an act, or taking a proceeding in the Court as plaintiff in a civil case, or as making a criminal charge against another person, or otherwise, shall do so in his own name, and not otherwise, and either—

(a) By himself; or

(b) By a legal practitioner; or

(c) By his attorney or agent thereunto lawfully authorized in writing,

(2) Where the act is done, or proceeding taken, by an attorney (other than a legal practitioner), or by an agent, the power of attorney, or instrument authorizing the agent, or an authenticated copy thereof, shall be first filed in the Court.

(3) Where the authority has reference only to the particular proceeding, the original document shall be filed.

(4) Where the authority is general, or has reference to other matters in which the attorney or agent is empowered to act, an authenticated copy of the document may be filed.

(5) If any person does any act, or takes any proceeding in the Court in the name or on behalf of another person, not being lawfully authorized thereunto, and knowing himself not to be so authorized, he shall be deemed guilty of a contempt of Court.

(6) Where in this Order appearance is referred to, appearance in person, or by a legal practitioner, attorney, or agent as aforesaid is meant, unless it is otherwise expressed.

111. (1) In any case, civil, or criminal, and at any stage thereof, the Court, either of its own motion or on the application of any party may summon a British subject, being within the particular jurisdiction, to attend to give evidence, or to produce documents, or to be examined.

(2) If the person summoned, having reasonable notice of the time and place at which he is required to attend, fails to attend accordingly, and does not excuse his failure to the satisfaction of the Court, he shall (independently of any other liability) be deemed guilty of an offence against this Order, and be liable to a fine of not more than £100, or to imprisonment for not more than one month, in the discretion of the Court.

112. (1) In a criminal case, where the Court is satisfied that a British subject within the particular jurisdiction may be able to give material evidence, either for the prosecution or for the defence, and that he will not voluntarily attend to give evidence, the Court may issue a summons for his attendance.

(2) If he does not obey the summons and does not excuse his failure to the satisfaction of the Court, then (after proof of service of the summons) the Court may issue a warrant to compel his attendance.

(3) Where it is proved to be probable that a person who might be so summoned will not attend to give evidence unless compelled to do so, then the Court, instead of issuing a summons, may issue a warrant in the first instance.

(4) If any such person on his appearance, either in obedience to a summons or on being brought up under a warrant, refuses to take an oath, or having taken an oath to answer any question put to him and does not excuse his refusal to the satisfaction of the Court then the Court may, by warrant, commit him to prison, there to remain for not more than seven days, unless he in the meantime consents to answer duly on oath.

113. Where by this Order, or any order of the Court, or the course of the Court, any limited time from or after any date or event is appointed or allowed for the doing of any act, or the taking of any proceeding, and the time is not limited by hours, the following rules shall apply :—

(i) The limited time does not include the day of the date or of the happening of the event, but commences at the beginning of the day next following that day ;

(ii) The act or proceeding must be done or taken at latest on the last day of the limited time ;

(iii) Where the limited time is less than six days, Sundays shall not be reckoned as part of the time.

114. The Court, on making any order which it is in its discretion to make, may make the order on such terms respecting time, cost, and other matters as the Court thinks fit.

115. If an officer of the Court employed to execute an order, by neglect or omission, loses the opportunity of executing it, then on complaint of the person aggrieved; and proof of the fact alleged, the Court may, if it thinks fit, order the officer to pay the damages sustained by the person complaining, or part thereof, and the order shall be enforced as an order directing payment of money.

116. If a clerk or officer of the Court, acting under pretence of the process or authority of the Court, is charged with extortion, or with not duly paying over money, or with other misconduct, the Court, if it thinks fit, may (without prejudice to any other liability or punishment to which the clerk or officer would, in the absence of the present provision, be liable) inquire into the charge in a summary way, and may for that purpose summon and enforce the attendance of all necessary persons as in a suit, and may make such order for the repayment of any money extorted, or for the payment over of any money, and for the payment of such damages and costs as the Court thinks just; and the Court may also, if it thinks fit, impose on the clerk or officer such fine, not exceeding £10 for each offence, as the Court thinks just.

117. All costs and all charges and expenses of witnesses, prosecutions, punishments, and deportations, and other charges, and expenses, and all fees, fines forfeitures, and pecuniary penalties payable under this Order, or under any Rules or Regulations to be made in pursuance of this Order, may be levied by distress and seizure and sale of goods and lands; and any bill of sale or mortgage, or transfer of property, made with the view of avoiding such distress, seizure, or sale shall not be permitted to defeat the provisions of this Order.

118. All fees, fines, forfeitures, and pecuniary penalties levied under this Order shall be carried to the public account and be applied as the Secretary of State, with the concurrence of the Treasury, from time to time directs.

119. Wherever under this Order any person is to be taken for trial or imprisonment to the Court of the Consul-General, or elsewhere in Abyssinia, or to Aden, Bombay, or Malta, or elsewhere, the Court or other authority by this Order authorized to cause him to be so taken may for that purpose (if necessary) cause him to be embarked on board one of His Majesty's vessels of war, or, if there is no such vessel available, then on board any British or other fit vessel, at any port or place, whether within or beyond the particular jurisdiction or district of that Court or authority, and with a view to such embarkment, may (if necessary) cause him to be taken, in custody or otherwise, by land or by water from any place to the port or place of embarkment.

The writ, order, or warrant of the Court, by virtue whereof any person is to be so taken, shall be sufficient authority to every constable, officer, or other person acting thereunder, and to the commander or master of any vessel of war, or other vessel (whether the constable, officer, or other person, or the vessel, or the commander or master thereof, is named therein or not), to receive, detain, take, and deliver up such person, according to the writ, order or warrant.

Where the writ, order, or warrant is executed under the immediate direction of the Court or authority issuing it, the writ, order, or warrant, shall be delivered to the constable, officer, or other person acting thereunder, and a duplicate thereof shall be delivered to the commander or master of any vessel in which the person to whom the writ, order, or warrant relates is embarked.

Where the writ, order, or warrant, issues from the Court of the Consul-General, and is executed by a Provincial Court, a copy thereof certified under the seal of the Court executing the same shall be delivered to the constable, officer, or other person acting thereunder, and to the commander or master of any vessel in which the person taken is embarked; and any such copy shall be for all purposes conclusive evidence of the order of which it purports to be a copy.

120. (1) Subject to the other provisions of this Order, all expenses of removal of prisoners and others from or to any place in Abyssinia, and the expenses of sending any person to Aden, Bombay, or Malta, or elsewhere, shall be defrayed in such manner as the Secretary of State from time to time directs.

(2) Any master of a British ship when required shall be bound to take such persons for a reasonable remuneration, to be determined by the Consul-General, and in case of non-compliance shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

121. The Public Authorities' Protection Act, 1893, shall extend and apply to Abyssinia, as if Abyssinia were therein mentioned in place of the United Kingdom, and as if this Order and any other Order relating to Abyssinia and any Regulations or Rules made under any such Order, were therein referred to, in addition to any Act of Parliament.

122. The Court of the Consul-General, may, if it thinks fit, order that a Commission do issue for examination of witnesses at any place out of Abyssinia, on oath, by interrogatories or otherwise, and may, by order, give such directions touching the time, place, and manner of the examination or anything connected therewith, as to the Court appear reasonable and just.

PART VI.—PROCEDURE ON APPEAL TO HIS MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

123. Subject to the provisions of Article 104 of this Order, the following Rules shall apply to and govern appeals to His Majesty in Council—

Rules.

(1) In these rules, unless the context otherwise requires:—

"Appeal" means appeal to His Majesty in Council;
"His Majesty" includes His Majesty's heirs and successors;
"Judgment" includes decree, order, sentence, or decision;
"Court" means the Court of the Consul-General;
"Record" means the aggregate of papers relating to an appeal (including the pleadings, proceedings, evidence, and judgments) proper to be laid before His Majesty in Council on the hearing of the appeal;
"Registrar" means the registrar or other proper officer having the custody of the records in the Court appealed from;
"Month" means calendar month;
Words in the singular include the plural, and words in the plural include the singular.

(2) Subject to the provisions of these rules, the Court may, at its discretion, grant leave to appeal from any judgment of the Court, whether final or interlocutory, if, in the opinion of the Court, the question involved in the appeal is one which, by reason of its great general or public importance or otherwise, ought to be submitted to His Majesty in Council for decision.

(3) Applications to the Court for leave to appeal shall be made within twenty-one days from the date of the judgment to be appealed from and the applicant shall give the opposite party notice of his intended application.

(4) Leave to appeal under rule 2 shall only be granted by the Court in the first instance:—

(a) Upon condition of the appellant, within a period to be fixed by the Court but not exceeding three months from the date of the hearing of the application for leave to appeal, entering into good and sufficient security to the satisfaction of the Court, in a sum not exceeding £500 for the due prosecution of the appeal, and the payment of all such costs as may become payable to the respondent in the event of the appellant's not obtaining an order granting him final leave to appeal or of the appeal being dismissed for non-prosecution, or of His Majesty in Council ordering the appellant to pay the respondent's costs of the appeal (as the case may be); and

(b) Upon such other conditions (if any) as to the time or times within which the appellant shall take the necessary steps for the purpose of procuring the preparation of the record and the despatch thereof to England as the Court, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, may think it reasonable to impose,

(5) Where the judgment appealed from requires the appellant to pay money or perform a duty, the Court shall have power, when granting leave to appeal, either to direct that the said judgment shall be carried into execution or that the execution thereof shall be suspended pending the appeal, as to the Court shall seem just, and in case the Court shall direct the said judgment to be carried into execution, the person in whose favour it was given shall, before the execution thereof, enter into good and sufficient security, to the satisfaction of the Court, for the due performance of such order as His Majesty in Council shall think fit to make thereon.

(6) The preparation of the record shall be subject to the supervision of the Court, and the parties may submit any disputed question arising in connection therewith to the decision of the Court, and the Court shall give such directions thereon as the justice of the case may require.

(7) The Registrar, as well as the parties and their legal agents, shall endeavour to exclude from the record all documents (more particularly such as are merely formal) that are not relevant to the subject-matter of the appeal, and generally to reduce the bulk of the record as far as practicable, taking special care to avoid the duplication of documents and the unnecessary repetition of headings and other merely formal parts of documents; but the documents omitted to be copied or printed shall be enumerated in a list to be placed after the index or at the end of the record.

(8) Where in the course of the preparation of a record one party objects to the inclusion of a document on the ground that it is unnecessary or irrelevant, and, the other party nevertheless insists upon its being included, the record, as finally printed (whether in Abyssinia or in England), shall, with a view to the subsequent adjustment of the costs of and incidental to such document, indicate, in the index of papers, or otherwise, the fact that and the party by whom, the inclusion of the document was objected to.

(9) The record shall be printed in accordance with the rules set forth in the schedule to this Article. It may be so printed either in Abyssinia or in England.

(10) Where the record is printed in Abyssinia the Registrar shall, at the expense of the appellant, transmit to the Registrar of the Privy Council forty copies of such record, one of which copies he shall certify to be correct by signing his name on, or initialling, every eighth page thereof, and by affixing thereto the seal of the Court.

(11) Where the record is to be printed in England the Registrar shall, at the expense of the appellant, transmit to the Registrar of the Privy Council one certified copy of such record, together with an index of all the papers and exhibits in the case. No other certified copies of the record shall be transmitted to the agents in England by or on behalf of the parties to the appeal.

(12) Where part of the record is printed in Abyssinia and part is to be printed in England, rules (10) and (11) shall, as far as practicable, apply to such parts as are printed in Abyssinia and such as are to be printed in England respectively.

(13) The reasons given by the Consul-General for or against any judgment pronounced in the course of the proceedings out of which the appeal arises shall by the Consul-General be communicated in writing to the Registrar, and shall by him be transmitted to the Registrar of the Privy Council at the same time when the record is transmitted.

(14) Where there are two or more applications for leave to appeal arising out of the same matter, and the Court is of opinion that it would be for the convenience of the Lords of the Judicial Committee and all parties concerned that the appeals should be consolidated, the Court may direct the appeals to be consolidated and grant leave to appeal by a single order.

(15) An appellant, who has obtained an order granting him conditional leave to appeal, may, at any time prior to the making of an order granting him final leave to appeal, withdraw his appeal on such terms as to costs and otherwise as the Court may direct.

(16) Where an appellant, having obtained an order granting him conditional leave to appeal, and having complied with the conditions imposed on him by such order, fails thereafter to apply with due diligence to the Court for an order granting him final leave to appeal, the Court may, on an application in that behalf made by the respondent, rescind the order granting conditional leave to appeal, notwithstanding the appellant's compliance with the conditions imposed by such order, and may give such directions as to the costs of the appeal and the security entered into by the appellant as the Court shall think fit, or make such further or other order in the premises as, in the opinion of the Court, the justice of the case requires.

(17) On an application for final leave to appeal the Court may enquire whether notice, or sufficient notice, of the application has been given by the appellant to all parties concerned and, if not satisfied as to the notices given, may defer the granting of the final leave to appeal, or may give such other directions in the matter as, in the opinion of the Court, the justice of the case requires.

(18) An appellant who has obtained final leave to appeal shall prosecute his appeal in accordance with the rules for the time being regulating the general practice and procedure in appeals to His Majesty in Council.

(19) Where an appellant, having obtained final leave to appeal, desires, prior to the despatch of the record to England to withdraw his appeal, the Court may, upon an application in that behalf made by the appellant, grant him a certificate to the effect that the appeal has been withdrawn, and the appeal shall thereupon be deemed, as from the date of such certificate, to stand dismissed, without express Order of His Majesty in Council, and the costs of the appeal and the security entered into by the appellant shall be dealt with in such manner as the Court may think fit to direct.

(20) Where an appellant, having obtained final leave to appeal, fails to show due diligence in taking all necessary steps for the purpose of procuring the despatch of the record to England, the respondent may, after giving the appellant due notice of his intended application, apply to the Court for a certificate that the appeal has not been effectually prosecuted by the appellant, and if the Court sees fit to grant such a certificate, the appeal shall be deemed, as from the date of such certificate, to stand dismissed for non-prosecution without express Order of His Majesty in Council, and the costs of the appeal and the security entered into by the appellant shall be dealt with in such manner as the Court may think fit to direct.

(21) Where at any time between the order granting final leave to appeal and the despatch of the record to England the record becomes defective by reason of the death, or change of status, of a party to the appeal, the Court may, notwithstanding the order granting final leave to appeal, on an application in that behalf made by any person interested, grant a certificate showing who, in the opinion of the Court, is the proper person to be substituted or entered on the record in place of, or in addition to, the party who has died, or undergone a change of status, and the name of such person shall thereupon be deemed to be so substituted or entered on the record as aforesaid without express Order of His Majesty in Council.

(22) Where the record subsequently to its despatch to England becomes defective by reason of the death or change of status, of a party to the appeal, the Court shall, upon an application in that behalf made by any person interested, cause a certificate to be trasmitted to the Registrar of the Privy Council showing who, in the opinion of the Court, is the proper person to be substituted, or entered, or the record, in place of, or in addition to, the party who has died or undergone a change of status.

(23) The case of each party to the appeal may be printed either in Abyssinia or in England and shall, in either event, be printed in accordance with the rules set forth in the schedule hereto, every tenth line thereof being numbered in the margin, and shall be signed by at least one of the counsel who attends at the hearing of the appeal, or by the party himself if he conducts his appeal in person.

(24) The case shall consist of paragraphs numbered consecutively and shall state, as concisely as possible, the circumstances out of which the appeal arises, the contentions to be urged by the party lodging the same, and the reasons of appeal. References by page and line to the relevant portions of the record as printed shall, as far as practicable, be printed in the margin, and care shall be taken to avoid, as far as possible, the re-printing in the case of long extracts from the record. The taxing officer, in taxing the costs of the appeal, shall, either of his own motion, or at the instance of the opposite party, enquire into any unnecessary prolixity in the case, and shall disallow the costs occasioned thereby.

(25) Where the Judicial Committee directs a party to bear the costs of an appeal incurred in Abyssinia, such costs shall be taxed by the proper officer of the Court in accordance with the rules for the time being regulating taxation in the Court.

(26) The Court shall conform with, and execute, any Order which His Majesty in Council may think fit to make on an appeal from a judgment of the Court in like manner as any original judgment of the Court should or might have been executed.

(27) Nothing in these rules contained shall be deemed to interfere with the right of His Majesty, upon the humble petition of any person aggrieved by any judgment of the Court, to admit his appeal therefrom upon such conditions as His Majesty in Council shall think fit to impose.

SCHEDULE TO ARTICLE 123.

I. Records and Cases in Appeals to His Majesty in Council shall be printed in the form known as Demy Quarto.

II. The size of the paper used shall be such that the sheet, when folded and trimmed will be 11 inches in height and 8½ inches in width.

III. The type to be used in the text shall be pica type, but long primer shall be used in printing accounts, tabular matter, and notes.

IV. The number of lines in each page of pica type shall be 47 or thereabouts, and every tenth line shall be numbered in the margin.

PART VII.—NATIVE AND FOREIGN SUBJECTS AND TRIBUNALS.

124. Where a native or foreigner desires to institute or take in the Court an action against a British subject or a British subject desires to institute or take in the Court an action against a foreigner, the Court shall entertain the same, and the action shall be heard and determined either by the Consular officer sitting alone, or if all parties consent, or the Court so directs, with Assessors, but in all other respects according to the ordinary procedure of the Court:

Provided that the native or foreigner, if so required by the Court, first submits to the jurisdiction of the Court, and, if required by the Court, gives security to the satisfaction of the Court, by deposit or otherwise, to pay fees, damages, costs, and expenses, and abide by and perform such decision as shall be given by the Court originally or on appeal (as the case may require).

125. A cross suit shall not be instituted in the Court against a plaintiff, being a native or foreigner, who has submitted to the jurisdiction, by a defendant, without leave of the Court first obtained.

The Court, before giving leave, may require proof from the defendant that his claim arises out of the subject-matter in dispute, and that there is reasonable ground for it, and that it is not made for vexation or delay.

Nothing in this provision shall prevent the defendant instituting or taking in the Court any suit or proceeding against the native or foreigner after the termination of the suit or proceeding in which the native or foreigner is plaintiff.

126. (1) Where a native or foreigner obtains in the Court an order against a defendant being a British subject, and in another suit that defendant is plaintiff, and the native or foreigner is defendant, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the subject, stay the enforcement of the order pending that other suit, and may set off any amount ordered to be paid by one party in one suit against any amount ordered to be paid by the other party in the other suit.

(2) Where a plaintiff, being a native or foreigner, obtains an order in the Courts against two or more defendants, being British subjects jointly, and in another suit one of them is plaintiff, and the native or foreigner is defendant, the Court may if it thinks fit, on the application of the subject, stay the enforcement of the order pending that other suit, and may set off any amount ordered to be paid by one party in one suit against any amount ordered to be paid by the other party in the other suit, without prejudice to the right of the subject to require contributions from his co-defendants under the joint liability.

127. Where a native or foreigner is co-plaintiff in a suit with a British subject who is within the particular jurisdiction, it shall not be necessary for the native or foreigner to make deposit or give security for costs, unless the Court so directs, but the co-plaintiff British subject shall be responsible for all fees and costs.

128. (1) Where it is shown to a Court that the attendance of a British subject to give evidence, or for any other purpose connected with the administration of justice, is required in a native or foreign Court, or before a native or foreign judicial officer, or in a Court, or before a judicial officer of any State in amity with His Majesty, the Court may, if it thinks fit, in a case and in circumstances in which it would require his attendance before itself, order that he do attend and give evidence, and produce documents as so required. The order may be made subject to conditions as to payment or tender of expenses or otherwise.

(2) A Court, however, cannot so order attendance at any place beyond its particular jurisdiction.

(3) If the person ordered to attend, having reasonable notice of the time and place at which he is required to attend, fails to attend accordingly, and does not excuse his failure to the satisfaction of the Court, or if he refuses to give evidence, or wilfully gives false evidence, or fails to produce documents which he is properly required to produce, he is, independently of any other liabilty, guilty of an offence against this Order, and for every such offence, or conviction thereof, by summary trial, is liable to a fine not exceeding £100, or to imprisonment for not exceeding one month, in the discretion of the Court.

129. No action shall be brought for the protection of any copyright, trade mark, patent or design by any person who is not a British subject, unless either—

(a) An arrangement is in force between His Majesty's Government and the Government of the State or Power to which the plaintiff belongs ; or

(b) The Court is satisfied that effectual provision exists for the protection in Consular or other Courts in Abyssinia of the rights and interests of British subjects in copyrights, trade-marks, patents, and designs infringed by the subjects of such State or Power.

Where such an arrangement is in force, the Consul-General may issue a notification to that effect, and the Court shall take judicial notice thereof.

130. (1) The Court may, upon the application of any British subject, native or foreigner, who has obtained a judgment or order for the recovery or payment of money in a native or foreign Court in Abyssinia against a person subject to the jurisdiction of that Court, and upon a certificate by the proper officer of the native or foreign Court that such judgment has been recovered or order made (specifying the amount), and that is still unsatisfied, and that a British subject is alleged to be indebted to such debtor and is within the jurisdiction, order that all debts owing or accruing from such British subject (hereinafter called the garnishee) to such debtor shall be attached to answer the judgment or order, and, by the same or a subsequent order, may order the garnishee to pay his debt or so much as may be sufficient to satisfy the judgment or order of the native or foreign Court.

(2) The proceedings for the summoning of the garnishee, for the ascertainment of his liability, and for the payment of money ordered by the Court to be paid, and all matters for giving effect to this Article, may be regulated by Rules of Court.

1. Notice is hereby given that the Government of India are prepared to consider tenders for a license to extract and purchase padauk and other timbers from—

(i) The North Andaman with Interview, Bennett, and all other Islands north of Austin Strait.

(ii) The Middle Andaman excepting that portion to the west of Yoljig and south of the main line cleared from the junction of the Chara lung-ta and Bom-lung-ta streams westwards to Mount Oldham and on to the sea.

2. Sites for depôts, sawmills, residences, and other purposes essential to the carrying out of the terms of the license will be made available at Port Cornwallis, Stewart Sound, and Long Island at the discretion of the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

3. Tenders may be submitted for either or both of the above areas. The license will be for 20 years from the 1st January 1916, or such later date within six months of the acceptance of the tender as may be agreed upon, with the option of renewal for another 20 years on terms to be notified by the Government of India hereafter ; but those persons whose tenders have been accepted will be permitted to clear land for buildings, and other purposes connected with the license, and to start the erection of such buildings, as from the date on which the agreement is signed and the security money deposited.

4. The fellings will be regulated by the working plans sanctioned or to be sanctioned, by the Government of India. The two areas, mentioned in paragraph 1 above will each be divided into three sub-periodic blocks. Felling and extraction of timber and the payment of royalty thereon must be completed in sub-periodic block I by the end of the first seven years of the license, work being similarly completed in sub-periodic blocks II and III by the end of the 11th and 15th years, respectively. Throughout the period of the agreement the Secretary of State for India in Council will retain the right to extract from the licensed areas timber required for local (other than trade purposes) and for local public works, and in any sub-periodic block on the expiry of the period allotted for the working thereof to issue licenses or otherwise provide for the felling, extraction, and disposal of timber which the licensees have omitted or are not bound to extract.

5. The padauk trees to be felled will be marked previously by the Forest Department, and none but marked trees shall be felled. The first sub-periodic block in each area will be located in the neighbourhood of Stewart Sound.

6. The minimum annual outturn of padauk timber for the first fourteen years after which the present working plan will be revised, is estimated as follows, but the accuracy of the estimate is not guaranteed :—

4,000 tons of third-class logs.

The outturn for the last six years of the license will be determined by working plans to be drawn up hereafter.

7. In addition the licensees will be permitted to cut, subject to previous marking, should this in the opinion of the Forest Officer be considered desirable, and to such limits as to area and number as may be imposed by the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands from time to time, other species as follows :—

All felled timber will be held to be at the risk of the licensees and to be liable to the payment of royalty which must be paid before removal from the islands or conversion in a sawmill.

9. For the first three years of the license royalty will be payable at the rates agreed on and on the amount of timber felled ; but thereafter minima annual royalties will be payable as follows :—

(i) for the North Andaman, Rs. 1,00,000 per annum,
(ii) for the Middle Andaman, Rs. 1,00,000 per annum,
(iii) in case of a combined license for both islands, Rs. 2,00,000 per annum.

10. Except with the special permission of the Divisional Forest Officer all padauk trees, sound or unsound, which have been marked by the forest officers as in their opinion worth conversion, must be felled and royalty paid on them.

11. Should the licensees desire to exploit any form of minor produce or any timber other than those species mentioned above, they may be permitted to do so on terms to be settled hereafter by the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

12. The licensees will be subject to such restrictions as the Government of India may prescribe to prevent communication between their employés and the convict population in the Andamans.

13. Subject to the general control of the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands the cultivation of field crops solely for the support of the labour force will be permitted free of taxation.

14. Facilities will be provided at Stewart Sound for wireless telegraphy, and as far as may be possible for a weekly steamer or launch connection for postal purposes between this place and Port Blair.

15. Such padauk timber as may be available from departmental working in the areas not included in the first paragraph of this notice or in sub-periodic blocks in which felling and extraction of timber has been completed by the licensees in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4 above and as may not be required for local consumption in the islands or for issue to State-worked railways or other Government departments in India and Burma, will be sold either by public auction or by public tender, provided that the quantity to be so sold annually, commencing from the first of January 1917, shall not exceed 500 tons of squares and 1,000 tons of scantlings. There will be no limit to the quantity of timber other than padauk which may be extracted from the areas under reference, and no restriction as to its disposal.

17. Tenders must be submitted on forms to be obtained from the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, and must be accompanied by a receipt for the payment into any Government Treasury of a sum of Rs. 1,500 in cash or in Government securities. This deposit will be returned to unsuccessful tenderers, but in the case of persons whose tenders have been accepted will be subject to forfeiture in the event of their failure to execute within the time specified the agreement referred to below.

18. All persons whose tenders have been accepted will be required to execute an agreement in a form approved by the Government of India, copies of which can be obtained on application to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, Simla. APPENDIX.

NOTICES TO MARINERS.

THE following Notices are published for general information.

F. A. A. COWLEY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA, the 17th February 1915.

BRITISH POSSESSIONS—CAUTION WHEN APPROACHING BRITISH PORTS.

No. 45 (first publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1 of 1915), are republished :—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.—No. 1805 of 1914; (This office No. 17 of 1915) hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.

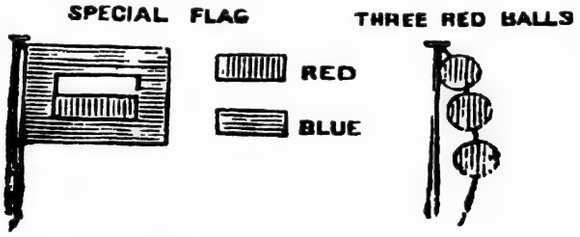
(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the Examination anchorage. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.



By night the steamer will carry :—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty Charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer.

(9) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(10) Merchant vessels when approaching ports are specially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night: the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(11) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

SWEEPING OPERATIONS.

H.M. Vessels are constantly engaged in sweeping operations off ports in the United Kingdom.

Whilst so engaged, they work in pairs connected by a wire hawser, and are consequently hampered to a very considerable extent in their manœuvring powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which these vessels are engaged, they will show the following signals:—

A black ball at the foremast head and a similar ball at the yardarm, or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous for vessels to pass.

For the public safety, all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying this signal, and should especially remember that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair.

RESOLUTION ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING ON THE 30TH SEPTEMBER 1914.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

LAND REVENUE.

CALCUTTA, THE 20TH FEBRUARY 1915.

RESOLUTION No. 2004.

READ—

The Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending on the 30th September 1914.

THE reports show marked progress in carrying out the great task of surveying and preparing a record of rights for the districts of this Presidency. During the year records of rights were finally published for an area of 4,492 square miles, and records have now been completed for over 15,000 square miles, or nearly a quarter of the area in which the Bengal

Tenancy Act is in force. The area in which records of rights have been finally published includes the districts of Chittagong, Bakarganj, Faridpur and Jalpaiguri. The work is in progress in Dacca, Mymensingh, Midnapore, Rajshahi and Noakhali, while the traverse survey of Bankura and Jessore has just begun. According to a rough programme of future operations, which has recently been drawn up in consultation with Commissioners, the traverse survey of the Presidency will be completed about 1927 and the record of rights some four or five years later.

2. The Survey Department was employed during the year, in connection with major operations under the Bengal Tenancy Act, in the districts of Mymensingh, Midnapore, Rajshahi and Noakhali. The traverse survey of Mymensingh was completed, and in Midnapore an area of less than 400 square miles remains. The total area surveyed during the year was 3,630 square miles as against 3,562 square miles in the previous year. The programme was everywhere carried out in full, and the expenditure in no case exceeded the standard cost-rates recently adopted. In addition to district surveys, the Department had to deal with various miscellaneous items of work, the most important of which were the Howrah town survey and the survey, on behalf of the Calcutta Improvement Trust, of the Calcutta added area and of the Maniktala, Tollygunge, South Suburban and Cossipore-Chitpur Municipalities. The work of preparing revenue maps in the Maniktala and Tollygunge Municipalities was hampered by delay in the disposal of disputes and in carrying out the attestation of the records. The Collector of the 24-Parganas should arrange, in consultation with the Director of Surveys, to deal with these matters as promptly as possible.

3. The survey school which was opened at Mainamati, near Comilla, on the 2nd January 1914 has made a good start in spite of a serious fire, which unfortunately broke out in August and destroyed the main school building and the Principal's house. Of the 41 students who went through the first year's course, the Director of Surveys has selected about 25 for employment in the major traverse party, and he expects to be able to find appointments for most of the remainder. The Governor in Council is glad to see that an active interest is being taken in the school by several gentlemen who have kindly given prizes for the encouragement of the students, and he hopes that the school will succeed in proving its utility, both to Government and to the public, in preparing young men for the useful and interesting career which is open to a land-surveyor in this province.

4. Except for the disposal of cases filed after final publication and the recovery of costs, the work of the Settlement Department in Faridpur and Jalpaiguri was completed during the year. In the Sonthal area of Birbhum the proceedings for the settlement of fair rents under section 112 of the Bengal Tenancy Act have been confirmed by the Governor-General in Council since the close of the year, and the operations are now being wound up. In Dacca, Mymensingh, Rajshahi and Midnapore, good progress was made, and the programme for the year was successfully carried out, except in Midnapore, where, owing to the serious floods which occurred in the autumn of 1913, the operations had to be suspended in an area of about 150 square miles. The collapse of the jute market in August on the outbreak of the war seriously interfered with the recovery of the costs in the Eastern Bengal districts during the last two months of the year, in which large payments would ordinarily have been made out of the profits of the jute crop. Collections were made only from those who paid voluntarily and the use of coercive measures against defaulters was almost entirely suspended.

The settlement of rents in the Government estates in Jalpaiguri, and the land revenue settlement in the diara area of Faridpur have been practically concluded. In Dacca, where an area of 110 square miles is under land revenue settlement, most of the draft rent-rolls have been published. The new rental shows an increase of 75 per cent., due mainly to extension of cultivation, and it is reported that in the vast majority of cases the rents fixed have been accepted by the raiyats without objection. The land revenue, payable by the landlords to Government, has not yet been assessed, but a considerable increase is expected.

The settlement of fair rents in permanently-settled estates was carried out on a considerable scale in the districts of Faridpur, Mymensingh and Jalpaiguri, in each of which the landlords obtained a substantial increase in their existing rental. The main ground of enhancement was the rise in the price of staple food crops, but considerable additions to the rent-roll were also made on account of the assessment of excess areas. Cess revaluation by the Settlement Department was completed in the districts of Faridpur and Jalpaiguri, and in about one-third of the total number of estates in the district of Dacca. The results of the revaluation based upon the settlement record have been very satisfactory, in spite of the fact that no account could be taken of enhanced rents settled under section 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act after the final publication of the record-of-rights. The increases secured in the cess demand are 60 per cent. in Faridpur, 40 per cent. in Jalpaiguri, and 44 per cent. in Dacca. In Midnapore the procedure for cess revaluation laid down in chapter IIA of the Cess Act, which is not in force in Northern and Eastern Bengal, has been found unworkable, the main difficulty being the necessity of completing the valuation-roll at attestation and before draft publication. It has, therefore, been decided that the Settlement Department should complete the revaluation only of the four thanas already taken up, the remaining thanas being left to be dealt with by the Collector after the settlement is com leted. The question of amending the Cess Act, so as to remove the defects brought to light in Midnapore, is under consideration.

5. The general agrarian conditions of the Eastern Bengal districts have been fully described in previous reports. The present report contains some interesting information regarding Midnapore and Rajshahi, which have been taken up more recently. Midnapore may almost be described as a province in miniature. The north and west of the district include aboriginal tracts in which the conditions resemble those found in the most backward areas of Chota Nagpur; the south consists mainly of Government estates; while the eastern portion comprises private estates, in many of which a system of coparcenary and subinfeudation prevails, hardly less complex than that of Eastern Bengal. Rajshahi is the first district of Northern Bengal (excluding Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling in which the conditions are peculiar) in which settlement operations have been undertaken on a large scale. The result so far seems to justify the view, which has sometimes been expressed, that the preparation of a record-of-rights for the protection of the tenantry is nowhere more urgently needed than in Northern Bengal. The description given in the report of the relations between landlord and tenant in the Naogaon subdivision reveals a most lamentable state of affairs. With a few notable exceptions, mismanagement and absenteeism appear to be the main characteristics of the permanently-settled estates. The levy of extortionate abwab, varying from four annas to nine annas per rupee of the rent, and of other illegal exactions is common, the tenants being too much afraid of their landlords or too ignorant of their own rights to resist these unjustifiable demands. It is reported that in many of the smaller estates every artifice is employed to dispossess a raiyat in order that the land may be re-let on a produce rent, and to defeat the rights of heirs to succeed to occupancy holdings, particularly when they are females or minors or distant collaterals. The detection of these malpractices will, it is hoped, induce absentee proprietors, who have any regard for their own reputation, to look more closely into the actions of their agents and to take measures for discharging their responsibilities for the proper treatment of their tenantry.

6. Minor settlement operations in respect of scattered estates were in progress in thirteen districts. The inspections of the Director of Land Records revealed various defects in some of the proceedings, which had previously been outside his control, and steps are being taken to remedy them as far as possible. The record of status in some of the minor settlements in the Presidency Division seems to have been unsatisfactory and will require careful re-examination when the district operations are undertaken.

7. The reports received from district officers contain satisfactory evidence that full use is being made of the settlement records in ordinary administrative work and in criminal and civil litigation. In Bakarganj, where the record was not printed, no less than 17,355 applications were received for copies of the record-of-rights and connected papers. The maintenance of boundary marks seems to have received adequate attention in most districts. More than half the boundary marks in charge of District Officers were inspected, and the majority were found to be in good condition. The Director should draw the attention of the District Officers concerned to the cases in which steps have not yet been taken to restore damaged or missing marks.

8. The exhaustive examination of settlement finance and expenditure, which was begun nearly three years ago, has been completed, and a full report on the whole subject has recently been submitted to the Government of India. Revised and detailed estimates have been drawn up for each of the districts in which the work is now in progress, and, on the basis of the investigation made into the cost of the different branches of the work, revised standard cost-rates have been worked out for use in the preparation of estimates of the cost of the operations in new districts, and as a check on expenditure in operations in progress. The revised district estimates were not completed in time for use in connection with the reports under review, and the Director of Land Records has consequently been able to examine the actual expenditure only by reference to the new standard cost-rates, some of which have been slightly varied since the report was written. The reports contain ample evidence of the sustained efforts which are being made to conduct the operations with the utmost economy compatible with efficiency, but it is most desirable that Government should receive timely information of the effects of any change of programme or procedure on the scale of expenditure. Future reports should therefore include a comparison of the actual progress and expenditure in each settlement with the revised detailed programmes and estimates which have been drawn up., a clear explanation being given of any material deviations from the programme and of any important divergence from the scale of expenditure shown in the estimates. The same course should be followed in the Survey report as soon as orders have been passed on the questions now under consideration regarding the distribution of control and other miscellaneous charges over the different items of work.

9. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to Major Hirst and Mr. McAlpin for their efficient administration of the Survey and Settlement Departments throughout the year. His Excellency in Council desires also to acknowledge the good work done by the officers in charge of the major settlements. The names of the other officers who have been specially mentioned in the final chapters of the reports will be duly noted.

ORDER :—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy of it, with copies of the two reports, be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. H. KERR.

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA.

TRADE FLUCTUATIONS.

PRINCIPAL STAPLES IMPORTED INTO AND EXPORTED FROM CALCUTTA IN THE EIGHT MONTHS OF APRIL TO NOVEMBER 1914.

THE following tables are intended to show the trade of Calcutta in selected articles during the months of April to November 1914 by all routes, i.e., by rail, road, river, canal and sea. The statistics have been compiled from returns furnished by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, Railway Audit Offices, Steamer Companies, the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the District Magistrates of the 24-Parganas and Howrah, and the Assistant Engineer, Calcutta Canals.

Table I summarises briefly the imports into and exports from Calcutta of staples during the month of November 1914 as against the corresponding period of 1913. There was an increase in the imports during November 1914 of food-grains (excluding wheat), Indian cotton piece-goods, gunny bags, indigo and Indian tea, compared with the figures for the corresponding month of the previous year, but the imports of coal and coke and jute (raw) decreased. As regards exports by sea (foreign and coastwise), there was an increase principally in the case of total food-grains, jute (raw), gunny bags and Indian tea, but there was a decrease in the case of coal and coke.

Tables II—VII give in detail the imports into and exports from Calcutta for the eight months ending November 1914.

The total imports into Calcutta in the eight months of April to November 1914 of rice, wheat, wheat-flour, gram and pulse and other food-grains were 21,000,000 maunds, as against 25,000,000 maunds and 32,000,000 maunds in the corresponding periods of 1913 and 1912. But although trade in food-grains declined generally, the imports of rice and wheat-flour showed an increase of about 2,000,000 and 70,000 maunds, respectively, in the eight months of 1914, as compared with the corresponding eight months of 1913. The total imports of wheat, however, declined from 5,900,000 maunds in the eight months of 1913 to 3,200,000 maunds in the same period of 1914. The imports of husked rice and paddy were 13,902,000 maunds, as against 12,253,000 maunds in the corresponding period of 1913. The district of 24-Parganas supplied Calcutta with a little less than half of the total imports of rice received from Bengal. It will also be observed that Burma exported 8,300,000 maunds of rice and paddy to Calcutta, as against 4,900,000 maunds received from the interior of Bengal.

There were also decreases in the imports of coal and coke, cotton raw, Indian cotton piece-goods, jute, rape and mustard, raw silk, sugar (refined and unrefined) and unmanufactured tobacco, while cotton twist and yarn, Indian indigo, gunny-bags, lac, tea and manufactured tobacco were imported into Calcutta in somewhat larger quantities. Of the Rs. 1,09,00,000 of Indian cotton piece-goods imported into Calcutta, Rs. 70,00,000 came from Bombay, Rs. 14,00,000 from the district of Hooghly and nearly Rs. 10,00,000 from the Central Provinces and Berar. More than Rs. 46,00,000 worth of piece-goods were imported viâ the Bengal-Nagpur Railway and over Rs. 37,00,000 viâ the Eastern Bengal State Railway.

Among the articles of import, jute, owing to war conditions, shows a very serious fall—only 2,297,000 bales were imported into Calcutta in the eight months, April to November 1914, as compared with 4,148,000 bales in the corresponding period of 1913. Jute was received chiefly from Faridpur (150,000 bales), followed by Dacca (412,000 bales), Mymensingh (268,000 bales), 24-Parganas (181,000 bales), and Rangpur 169,000 bales). Over 179,000,000 gunny-bags were imported almost entirely from the districts of Hooghly and the 24-Parganas.

Of the total imports of food-grains into Calcutta during the eight months April to November 1914, 2,133,000 maunds were imported by boat, 146,000 maunds by steamer, 9,131,000 maunds by rail, 1,080,000 maunds by road, and 8,513,000 maunds by sea (coastwise). Coal and coke was imported into Calcutta almost entirely (nearly 99 per cent.) by rail. In the case of jute, the major portion was imported by Eastern Bengal State Railway (56 per cent.) and steamer (26 per cent.). Of 7,406,015 maunds of oilseeds, 87 per cent. was imported by the East Indian Railway. Indian tea was imported mostly by steamer and Eastern Bengal State Railway (steamer 45 per cent. and Eastern Bengal State Railway 33 per cent.).

There was a decrease in the imports by sea (foreign and coastwise) of cotton piece-goods from Rs. 18,98,18,000 in the eight months ending November 1913 to Rs. 16,27,29,000 in the corresponding period of 1914. The imports of kerosine oil by sea increased by 256,000 maunds and those of salt decreased by 2,853.000 maunds.

The exports of the number of gunny-bags by sea (foreign and coastwise) were 598,000,000, of which 540,000,000 went to foreign countries other than the United Kingdom, 34,000,000 to the United Kingdom, 14,000,000 to Burma, 4,000.000 to Bombay, and 3,000,000 to Sind.

There has been a decline in the exports by sea of food-grains. In the eight months of April to November 1913, the exports of rice amounted to 5,649,000 maunds, wheat to 2,060,000 maunds, gram and pulse 2,594,000 maunds and other food-grains 1,534,000 maunds. In the corresponding period of 1914 the exports were: rice 3,673,000 maunds, wheat 116,000 maunds, gram and pulse 1,014,000 maunds and other food-grains 88,000 maunds. For the eight months of 1914, therefore, the total exports of food-grains were 5,200,000 maunds, as against 12,241.000 maunds in 1913.

Exports of cotton piece-goods, foreign from Calcutta by rail, road, river, canal and sea (coastwise) during the eight months ending November 1914 amounted to Rs. 12,47,62,000 against Rs. 16,23,72,000 in the corresponding period of the preceding year. Of this, Rs. 5,89,000 worth of piece-goods were exported by boat, Rs. 2,22,77,000 by steamer, Rs. 9,99,67,000 by rail, Rs. 13.37,000 by road and Rs. 5,93,000 by sea (coastwise).

In the case of gunny bags there was also a falling off in the exports from 66,440,000 to 53,869,000, about half the portion (45 per cent.) having been carried by sea (coastwise). There was an increase from 399,000 maunds to 431,000 maunds in the exports of kerosine oil from Calcutta, while those from Budge-Budge slightly declined from 4,767,000 maunds to 4,400,000 maunds.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 22nd February 1915.

Summary.—During the week under review light-to-moderate showers fell in a number of places facilitating agricultural operations and doing good to the standing crops. The mango blossoms at Malda are, however, reported to be slightly injured by the rainfall. Preparation of lands for jute and other bhadoi crops is going on briskly. Threshing of winter paddy, harvesting of rabi crops and pressing of sugarcane continue. The prospects of standing crops continue to be fairly satisfactory. Cattle-disease is reported from eleven districts. The average price of common rice for the Province has fallen by about 0·9 per cent., as compared with that of the previous week.

DOWNING STREET,
The 11th September 1914.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to inform you that my attention has been directed to the yearly increasing demands which are being made on the Imperial Institute by private individuals and firms for reports on technical subjects and specially on the composition and value of raw materials.

2. In the past it has generally been impossible to accede to such requests for investigations from private individuals and firms owing to the pressure of other work. At the same time the conduct of such investigations seems to me to be a legitimate function of the Institute, and I have been given to understand that the demand for such reports would be considerably extended if it were known throughout His Majesty's Possessions that the Institute was prepared to undertake for individuals special reports of the kind indicated in paragraph 8 of the Earl of Elgin's Circular despatch of the 31st of July, 1906.

3. The Institute, however, is now so completely occupied with the scientific, technical, and commercial researches demanded by the Agricultural, Mines, and other technical departments of the Governments of those parts of His Majesty's dominions which contribute to its funds that it is impossible to undertake investigations on any considerable scale for private individuals and firms without adding to the technical staff, and therefore to the general expenses, of the Institute. But having decided to meet what I believe to be a growing demand for such work, I am authorising the Imperial Institute to undertake in future for an appropriate fee researches, investigations, analyses, etc., required by private individuals and firms, either in this country or any of His Majesty's oversea dominions.

4. It will be left to the authorities of the Institute to decide in the case of each application whether or no the request for researches, etc., is one with which the Imperial Institute can properly comply.

5. Any reports which may be supplied under this arrangement will become the property of those who pay for them and will not be communicated either by the Imperial Institute or by any Government to other persons, or published without the consent of those concerned.

6. As it is undesirable that the Imperial Institute should compete with the professional expert, I propose that only special investigations, etc., should be undertaken, i.e., on subjects of a technical character with which the Imperial Institute is exceptionally qualified to deal, especially those relating to the production and utilisation of materials which occur in the British Empire or which might be introduced into British countries and are considered likely to be of value to British commerce or trade.

7. It may be useful if I refer to some of the more important matters with which the Imperial Institute is in a special position to deal :—

(a) Investigations as to the value of new or little known raw materials for commercial purposes.

(b) Chemical analyses, assays and valuations of raw materials, such as fibres, rubbers, oil-seeds, waxes, food-stuffs, tanning materials, essential and fixed oils, gums, resins, drugs, tobaccos, soils, minerals, ores, waters, fuels, etc., etc.

(c) The technical testing of rubber, timbers, cotton, fibres, cements, and other materials.

(d) Identifications of vegetable and mineral substances.

8. I am informed that the Managing Committee are not prepared at present to suggest any actual scale of fees which could meet the variety of cases which are likely to occur. The fee must be arranged between the Institute and the individuals or firms who require investigations to be made. The matter will be in the hands of the Director, who will from time to time report to the Managing Committee the fee proposed in any special case in which this cannot be determined by ordinary practice.

9. DRAFT RULES.

1. Wherever mooring posts have been put up by the Supervisor, vessels must be made fast by the bow and stern along the banks to such posts, or in such other manner as the Supervisor may direct.

2. As the water falls, the bow and stern ropes must be slackened, and boats gradually pushed towards the centre of the canal; when the flood comes in these two ropes must be gradually hauled in, and the boat kept as close to the bank as possible.

3. In portions of the canals where only one towing-path exists, vessels must be moored on the off-side, and the towing-path side must always be kept clear.

4. Only one boat is allowed to make fast along and in line with the canal banks, and no boat is to be made fast or be placed outside of boats so secured without the special permission of the Supervisor. No boat or raft is to be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other boats, or obstruct the passage of other boats; but all boats are to be placed in such places and in such a manner as the Supervisor or Inspector may at any time direct.

5. The Supervisor may, by notification, prohibit the dropping of anchors or the putting up of bamboos or luggees in any part of the canals or banks, and in such part no anchors must be dropped or bamboos or luggees put up.

6. Boats whilst loading or unloading in the canals are allowed to use ladders, but the ladders must be gradually taken in as the water rises.

7. In order to avoid collision and confusion, boats waiting for a favourable tide at the junction of two or more rivers must be moored at a distance of not less than 1,000 feet from the point of junction.

8. No person is allowed to place any obstruction on the canal banks, roads, drains or bridges (when such are on canal land) so as to impede a free passage along them, or cause injury to them, or to commit a nuisance, or deposit filth of any sort on the banks, bridges or roads or in the canals.

9. No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the canals.

10. In every case of wreck caused by negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor and his subordinates must give all possible assistance in removing the same.

11. A notice must be affixed on a wreck when recovered, calling on those concerned to pay to the Supervisor all tolls which may be due, or any fine which may have been adjudged, as well as the expenses incurred in the recovery or removal of the wreck; and intimating that if the sum be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the boat and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold, the proceeds of the sale being dealt with as directed in section 9 of the Canals Act, 1864.

12. Every Canal officer is authorized to remove any vessel, anchor, pole or other thing which he may find in a position which is in contravention of these rules, and to deal with it in such a manner as may be necessary to give effect to the rules.

13. Whenever any laden vessel is seized by a Canal Officer, it is the duty of the Supervisor to give immediate notice of the same to the owner or his agent, requiring the removal of the cargo without delay, and informing him that he will be required to pay all expenses necessary for the proper custody and storage of the same.

14. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or abode of the owner of the cargo of any vessel or boat seized under the said Act, he must notify the seizure by advertisement in his office and in one or more of the public newspapers. Such notice shall require the owner to cause the immediate removal of the cargo, and to pay any necessary expenses incurred in providing for its proper custody and storage.

15. The Supervisor may incur whatever expense he may think necessary for the proper custody and storage of the cargo of any vessel seized under the Act, and if the cargo be not removed within ten days from the date of seizure, he may sell the same at public auction to the highest bidder, after giving ten days' notice of the same by advertisement in his office and in one or more of the public newspapers.

16. The money realized at such a sale is to be applied, in the first instance, to defray any expenditure that may have been incurred by the Supervisor on account of the cargo sold and the balance, if any, is to be held in deposit to be paid to the owner of the said cargo on his applying for the same.

FIELD OPERATIONS.

No. 205.—The Governor-General in Council has much pleasure in directing the publication of the following letter from the Chief of the General Staff, dated the 2nd February 1915, submitting despatches from Brigadier-General W. S. Delamain, C.B., D.S.O., and Lieutenant-General Sir A. A. Barrett, K.C.B., K.C.V.O., describing the operations of I. E. F. "D" at the head of the Persian Gulf up to the 28th November 1914. The Governor-General in Council concurs in the opinion expressed by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief regarding the manner in which the operations were conducted and the behaviour of the troops engaged. His Excellency in Council also shares the Commander-in-Chief's appreciation of the support rendered by the Royal Navy which conduced so materially to the success of the operations.

No. 10600-1 (C.G.S.), dated Delhi, the 2nd February 1915.

From—The Chief of the General Staff,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Army Department.

I AM directed by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India to submit for the information of the Government of India the undermentioned reports on the operations of Indian Expeditionary Force "D" up to the 28th November 1914 :—

(i) Report by Brigadier-General W. S. Delamain, C.B., D.S.O., on the operations of I. E. F. "D" up to the 14th November 1914; and

(ii) Report by Lieutenant-General Sir A. A. Barrett, K.C.B., K.C.V.O., Commanding I. E. F. "D," on the operations of his force at the head of the Persian Gulf, from the 14th to the 28th November 1914.

2. His Excellency considers that the operations were conducted with skill and energy and that the discipline and steadiness of the troops reflect the greatest credit on all ranks. He desires to commend to the favourable consideration of Government the officers, non-commissioned officers and men whose services are brought to notice in the reports, and wishes specially to invite attention to Lieutenant-General Sir Arthur Barrett's remarks in regard to the very valuable assistance rendered by the Royal Navy which he cordially endorses.

3. His Excellency recommends that the reports be treated as despatches and published in the Gazette of India.

No. B. M.-11, dated Camp Saniyah, the 16th November 1914.

From—Brigadier-General W. S DELAMAIN, C.B., D.S.O., Commanding, 16th Brigade, I.E.F. "D,"
To—The Chief of General Staff, Simla.

ON the arrival of Lieutenant-General Sir A. A. Barrett at this camp and on conclusion of my period of independent command I have the honour to report as follows.

2. The force under my command, known as I. E. F., "D," left Bombay on the 16th October in four transports, part of a large convoy. On 19th October we parted company and steered for Bahrain Islands, under escort of H. M. S. "Ocean." No. 1 Brigade, Indian Mountain Artillery, joined the force off Jask on the 21st. We arrived on the 23rd and anchored off Manama. Here we remained until the 2nd November.

3. On that date the Force sailed for the mouth of the Shatt-el-Arab in compliance with instructions contained in your radio-telegram No. 6571. Pilots were taken on board off Bushire and the Force arrived at the outer bar of the river on the evening of the 3rd November.

4. The 4th and 5th November were occupied with naval preparations and the transports themselves were prepared with bullet proof cover on the upper decks for the use of parties detailed for covering fire.

Major Radcliffe, 2nd Dorset Regiment, returned from Kuweit on 5th with information that the Fort was in ruins but that guns were in position. A landing force was detailed for the capture of Fao, under Lieutenant-Colonel H. L. Rosher, 2nd Dorset Regiment, and orders issued. On the 5th the transports crossed the outer bar of the Shatt-el-Arab and anchored just outside the inner bar.

5. At 6 A.M. on 6th November H. M. S. "Odin," preceded by launches sweeping for mines, stood in and bombarded the Turkish guns outside the Fort, 3 miles south-east of the telegraph station at Fao. The hostile guns were soon silenced; they were well served for a time and hit the "Odin" twice. On the signal being made that the guns were silenced the transports "Umaria" and "Varela" advanced in that order, each towing 8 boats full of troops alongside; the "Mashona" (armed launch) towed 7 boats full of troops and the Royal Navy steam launches towed the detachment of Marines from H. M. S. "Ocean." Off the telegraph station the boats were cast off and made for the shore. Some 600 Infantry landed with 1 section, Mountain Artillery, complete with mules and 1 squad, Sappers and Miners. There was no opposition. When the 1st and 2nd reinforcements had also landed, Colonel Rosher assembled his force and marched south-eastwards to occupy the Fort. This was accomplished during the night of the 6th—7th, the guns were dismounted and thrown into the river and Colonel Rosher's command returned to Fao.

6. While the troops who had landed were being re-embarked on the 7th November, the General Officer Commanding with remaining transports proceeded up the river till within sight of the Oil Refinery on Abadan Island. On the 8th November the river was reconnoitred for a suitable landing place. A firm high bank with deep water close up to it was found at Saniyeh; the transports were called up and troops began to disembark. The disembarkation continued during 9th and 10th November being practically complete by evening of latter date.

7. It was proposed to advance from this camp and attack the Turks at Shamshumiya by land, but the reported advance of Turkish troops from Basrah and the necessity of safeguarding the Oil Works combined with the absence of news from India regarding the arrival of reinforcements decided me to remain at Saniyeh. With the intention of an early forward movement, as little baggage and supplies as possible were landed at this camp. Reconnaissances both up and down stream on the 9th and 10th failed to discover any enemy.

8. On the evening of the 10th reliable news was received from the Sheikh of Mohammerah that Sami Bey with strong combined force of Turks and Arabs had arrived from Basrah at a point opposite Mohammerah with the intention of attacking our camp. At 3 A.M. on the 11th the Sheikh reported that Sami Bey had started to make the attack. Troops were turned out and outposts strengthened. The Turkish force, of whom over 300 were actually seen, delivered a determined attack at 5-30 A.M. on an advanced post held by one double company 117th Mahrattas with 2 machine guns. They advanced to within 50 yards of the post but were driven off by a dashing counter-attack delivered by the 20th Duke of Cambridge's Own Infantry, with the assistance of the 23rd Peshawar Mountain Battery. The enemy lost heavily in their retirement across the desert, 19 dead were counted, 14 wounded were brought in by us and 6 prisoners were taken. Abandoned rifles and equipment were found. The Turks officially acknowledged a loss of 80 men.

9. The defences of the camp were further strengthened and daily reconnaissances made. On the 14th November, Lieutenant-General Sir A. Barrett with the 18th Brigade and Divisional Troops arrived at this camp.

10. I would invite attention to the difficulties of communication in the Persian Gulf during the period covered by this report. Constant thunderstorms interrupted the wireless system. The installation on R. I. M. S. "Dalhousie," is apparently of poor quality and the operators not very experienced. This ship had to be stationed at Bushire to connect with the cable there. The wireless station at Jask was frequently in communication with H. M. S. "Ocean" in the sense that the station would answer the call of the warship but it would not take in any message for transmission. No night watch is kept at Jask.

11. Several points to which I would earnestly invite attention are mentioned in the "Notes" made at intervals in the "War Diary" which is forwarded by the same mail as this report.

12. I would mention that the stay of the Force at Bahrain was of advantage as it enabled me to have British and Indian Corps instructed in rowing and handling of boats and to rehearse the operation of a landing in force.

13. All ranks have performed their duties in a most zealous and creditable manner.

14. I would bring to notice the great assistance given me by the following officers in planning and carrying out the operations for the occupation of Fao and the landing at this camp:—

Captain Hayes-Sadler, R.N., Senior Naval Officer, H. M. S. "Ocean."

Commander Hamilton, Royal Indian Marine, Principal Marine Transport Officer.

15. I would also report that the masters of the various transports* gave all the assistance in their power. I would specially bring to notice the name of Mr. T. L. Mills, R.N.R., Master of the S.S. "Varela," British India Steam Navigation Company, who displayed great zeal and willingness to perform operations beyond those usually required of a master of a merchant vessel. I trust that it will be found possible to recognize his service.

* "Varela," "Umaria," "Umta," "Berbera," "Masunda" } British India Steam Navigation Company.

16. In connection with the Turkish night attack on the 11th November I would report that the counter-attack I ordered on the attacking force was carried out in a most dashing and skilful manner by the 20th Duke of Cambridge's Own Infantry and the 23rd Peshawar Mountain Battery under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel C. Rattray, 20th Infantry.

REPORT OF OPERATIONS OF INDIAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE "D" FROM 14TH TO 28TH NOVEMBER 1914.

No. 101-G., dated Basrah, the 7th December 1914.

From—LIEUTENANT-GENERAL SIR A. A. BARRETT, K.C.B., K.C.V.O., Commanding Indian Expeditionary Force "D",

To—The Chief of the General Staff, Army Head-quarters, Delhi.

I HAVE the honour to submit for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief the following report of the operations of the troops under my command from the 14th to the 28th November 1914.

2. On the morning of the 14th November, the S.S. "Elephanta," with my Head-quarters, and four other transports anchored in the river opposite Saniyeh, where Brigadier-General Delamain's force was already bivouacked. The disembarkation of the troops was commenced at once. Infantry used the ships' boats and experienced no difficulty in getting ashore. The landing of the guns, wagons and horses of the field artillery and of the cavalry horses in lighters and dhows was greatly delayed by the strong tide and current, the want of proper landing places, and by the shortage of lighters and steam craft for towing purposes. Every possible use was made of all the craft available, and with the hearty co-operation of the officers and men of the Royal Navy, the Indian Marine and the transports, considerable progress was made. The hatch covers of the transports were utilised as ramps for horses and guns, while excellent work was done by the Sapper Companies.

3. In the course of the day I learnt from General Delamain of the presence of a hostile force at Saihan, four miles distant, and I ordered him to attack it the following morning. A full account of the action which ensued will be found in the attached report from General Delamain I have already mentioned, in my telegraphic report of this action, my appreciation of the skilful and spirited manner in which this attack was carried out, and of the credit due to all who were engaged. The result was entirely satisfactory, as it enabled our advance on the 17th November to take place without our right flank being harassed.

4. Our information on the evening of the 16th was to the effect that a force of the enemy would probably be met with about* Sahil and Zain, while his main body was believed to be in position at Balyaniyeh. At that time the whole of the cavalry, sappers, and the infantry of the 18th Brigade had been landed, but only one battery of the 10th Brigade, Royal Field Artillery. I was informed that the Sheikh of Mohammerah was apprehensive of an attack on Failieh from the enemy's forces on the left bank, and also that the attitude of the neighbouring Arabs would depend, to a great extent, upon our ability to make headway against the Turks without undue delay. I therefore decided that it would be in our best interests to advance at once, with the whole of the force then at my disposal, leaving the remaining field batteries to be disembarked as rapidly as possible and to follow us as soon as circumstances would permit.

* Vide map 4 miles to 1" attached. Not reproduced.

5. A copy of operation orders issued for Tuesday, the 17th November, will be found attached.† My intention was to turn the enemy's right flank, and drive him through the palm groves on to the river, so that the two sloops, "Odin" and "Espiegle," which moved up the river on a level with our advance, might be able to co-operate.

† Appendix 2.

6. After leaving the bivouac we moved across the open desert, the surface of which, owing to recent rain, was still very muddy in places, though fortunately free from creeks or other obstructions.

At 8-50 A.M. a report was received from the advanced guard to the effect that the enemy's position extended from a ruined mud fort, which was plainly visible somewhat to the right of our line of advance, north-westwards through Hassanain to Zain.‡ At 10 A.M. the enemy's guns opened fire. I then ordered the 110th Mahratta L. I. to reinforce the advanced guard and moved up the 16th Brigade on its right, leaving a space between the two brigades for the artillery to come into action, and retaining as reserves the 48th Pioneers and 120th Infantry. Each of the two Brigade commanders had then at his disposal three battalions of infantry and a company of sappers, with the cavalry covering the left flank of the whole force, and the two sloops on the river to our right, though at some distance, with only the tops of their masts appearing above the belt of palm trees. The whole of the artillery consisting of the 23rd and 30th Mountain Batteries, and 63rd Battery, Royal Field Artillery, subsequently joined by three guns of the 76th Battery, which were hurried up during the action from the landing place, were placed under the Commander, Royal Artillery.

‡ This report proved substantially correct, except that their position extended about ¾ mile to the S of Old Fort along the date-palm belt.

7. While these dispositions were being made, a heavy downpour lasting for half an hour came on. The front was entirely obscured, while the surface of the ground was converted into a quagmire ankle deep over which guns and horses could only move at a walk. The enemy's guns ceased firing, and I was in some doubt as to whether he intended to maintain his position. Our troops continued to advance steadily until 11-45 A.M., when the enemy simultaneously opened a heavy gun, rifle and machine gun fire along his whole front. Our artillery and infantry also came into action. After watching the course of the engagement for some time, I came to the conclusion that it would be advisable to abandon my original intention of turning the enemy's right, which extended some distance, and was echeloned back into broken ground and palm groves. The key of his position appeared to be the old mud fort. I, therefore, sent word to General Fry with the 18th Brigade to engage the enemy's right and centre with a frontal attack, while General Delamain with the 16th Brigade turned his left flank and captured the fort. At the same time I reinforced General Delamain with a battalion from the reserve. General Delamain had meanwhile anticipated my intentions and had already commenced the turning movement. It was at this stage that a large number of casualties occurred on our right, especially in the 2nd Dorset Regiment, which had been the first to come into action, and had met with heavy fire in an exposed position, not only from the mud fort and trenches in front of it, but also from a body of the enemy entrenched on the edge of the palm groves behind and to the south of it. These Turkish regulars were using smokeless powder and were invisible from the point where the guns were in action, the latter being fully engaged with the enemy's artillery and with the long line of entrenchments on the main front Hassanain-Zain. The sloops on the river managed to put a few shells into the mud fort, but were soon obliged to desist owing to their view being obstructed by the belt of palm trees. The turning movement was very skilfully carried out by portions of the 104th Infantry, the 117th Mahrattas and the 22nd Company, Sappers and Miners, and was directed by General Delamain himself. The 18th Brigade and the main body of the 16th Brigade also pressed on steadily, supported by very efficient fire from our artillery. At 1-15 P.M. the whole of the enemy's line quitted its entrenchments and fled rapidly to the right rear into the broken ground and palm trees, his guns covering the retirement, and finally being skilfully withdrawn from successive positions in the same direction under cover of long earthen embankments, which concealed them from view. The whole of our force advanced firing heavily and doing considerable execution, but the enemy's losses would have been much greater if the state of the ground had not precluded rapid movement, more especially on the part of the cavalry and artillery.

Two abandoned mountain guns fell into the hands of the 7th Rajputs, who were on the left of the line, and numerous prisoners were captured.

At 2-50 P.M. I thought it advisable to issue orders for the pursuit to be stopped. The enemy were then retiring through the palm groves, with banks and mud walls affording facilities for defence, and their retirement was covered by distant fire from their guns. I had to form an entrenched camp before nightfall, and to bring in a large number of wounded, who were scattered over a considerable exent of country.

The enemy's losses have been variously estimated, and probably amounted to about 2,000. Two days after the action 69 dead bodies were found lying in one portion of the position. His total strength is estimated at 3,000 Turks and 1,500 Arabs, with 12 guns.

The troops bivouacked at Sahil on the banks of the river with outposts on the line Sahil—Old Fort—to river bank, vide sketch* map.

The conduct of the troops throughout this engagement excited my warmest admiration. A very large majority of the men had never been under fire before, yet they behaved as steadily as if at an ordinary field-day, all the details of their training, as inculcated in peace time, being carried out automatically. The behaviour of the Dorset Regiment, when exposed to both frontal and enfilade fire, is especially to be commended. General Delamain has also brought to notice the 22nd Company, Sappers and Miners, who were on the right of the Dorsets.

The enemy's guns were well served and cleverly handled, but fortunately the fusing of the shells was indifferent and the elevation generally too great. Their rifle fire was also too high, and not very effective at close quarters, otherwise our losses would have been much heavier. Our artillery suffered for want of observation posts, but in spite of this their fire was highly effective, and, as was afterwards ascertained, produced a demoralising effect on the enemy.

As may be gathered from the above report, the duties of the commanders of brigades and other units, as also of the staff were carried out most efficiently. I propose to defer bringing the names of individual officers to notice until the operations of this Force as a whole are finally recorded. At this stage I need only mention those who were especially conspicuous during the actions of the 15th and 17th, as set forth in the brigade commander's reports attached.

The work of bringing in the wounded continued far into the night, and one ambulance party actually remained out all night, in spite of the fact that the enemy were firing on our piquets at intervals. I desire to pay a very high tribute to the personnel of the medical services, both for efficiency of organization, and for devotion to duty. In addition to our own men, a large number of wounded Turks and Arabs had to be cared for and conveyed on board the transports, at a spot where shelving mud flats and a strong current made boating operations extremely troublesome and at times even hazardous.

On the afternoon of the 17th, it was blowing a hurricane for several hours, in the course of which three large dhows lying alongside the transports, laden with stores ready to disembark, were wrecked, and ten sepoys and two lascars were drowned.

On the 18th, 19th and 20th we were employed in landing supplies and blankets for the troops, and in reconnoitring the enemy's position at Balyanieh, which was found to be at right angles to the river, with four guns in position on the bank commanding the north end of Dabba Island, where the S.S. "Ekbatana" and two smaller craft had been sunk to block the ship channel. The naval sloops engaged these guns from below the obstruction, and, as was discovered afterwards, placed a shell inside the battery.

I formed a plan of attack to be carried out on the 22nd in which naval and military forces were to co-operate, but on the 21st I received trustworthy information, confirmed by our cavalry, that the enemy had vacated his position. The report stated that the Turks had quitted Basrah and retired northward in boats to Baghdad, that numbers of armed Arabs had deserted, and that the town of Basrah was in danger of being looted.

Accordingly, I ordered a forced march for 8 P.M. that evening, while the naval sloops were to proceed by river to Basrah, and two battalions were hastily got on board shallow draft steamers to follow them. We started across the desert at 8 o'clock, and at 12 noon the next day we reached the outskirts of Basrah, after a march that was extremely trying to the troops. Frequent delays were caused by the high banks of water channels, which had to be levelled and in some cases bridged to admit the passage of field guns.

On arrival at Basrah, we learned that the two sloops had got in at 9 P.M. the previous evening, and had succeeded in protecting the buildings on the river bank, to which no damage had been done, except the partial burning of the Custom House and destruction of its contents.

The two battalions had arived, at 9 A.M. on the 22nd and were then patrolling the town, which was perfectly orderly.

I therefore decided to defer making a formal entry into the town until the next morning, as the troops were badly in need of food and rest, and it would have been difficult to arrange quarters for them until the place had been more fully examined.

On the 23rd the troops made a ceremonial march through the town to a a selected spot near the mouth of the Ashar Creek, where the foreign Consuls and notables were assembled to meet us, and were presented to me by Mr. Bullard, our late Consul. A proclamation prepared by Sir Percy Cox was then read, the Union Jack was hoisted on a prominent building, a salute was fired from the sloops, the troops presented arms, and three cheers were given for His Majesty the King-Emperor. The German Consul and five other Germans were placed on board transports for conveyance to India.

We were cordially welcomed by the inhabitants who appeared eager to transfer their allegiance to the British Government.

In concluding this report, I wish to lay stress upon the very great assistance that I have received throughout from Captain Hayes-Sadler, R. N., the Senior Naval Officer in the Persian Gulf, and the officers and men serving under him, without which it would have been quite impossible to bring these operations to a successful issue.

I am also much indebted to Sir Percy Cox for his advice and help on all occasions. and for the valuable and accurate information that he was able to procure for me, chiefly through the Sheikh of Mohammerah, who, at the risk of drawing upon himself the hostility of the Turks, has spared no pains to prove himself our true friend and ally.

I reserve for a future report an acknowledgment of the good services done by the officers of the Royal Indian Marine, whose duties in connection with naval transport work have been most onerous.

We have also received very ready help throughout from the officers and men of the transports belonging to the British India Steam Navigation and other companies.

The following is a list of documents that accompany the report:—

Appendix 1.

Extract from a Report by Brigadier-General W. S. Delamain, D.S.O., on the Operation of the 14th November 1914.

* * * * * * *

Information from various sources went to show that Turkish troops were concentrating near Saihan only four miles west of our camp at Saniyeh: and on the 14th November I received the Force Commander's instructions to reconnoitre and dislodge this hostile gathering without involving my own force too seriously. I thereupon issued Operation Order No. 7.

The force under my command consisted of the 30th Mountain Battery, the 2nd Battalion, Dorset Regiment, and the 104th Rifles, with 23rd Mountain Battery and the 20th Infantry in camp held ready to reinforce if we became engaged.

The force marched at 6 A.M. from Camp Saniyeh and on reaching the southern edge of the date palms turned westwards, the advanced Guard (Major Clarkson, 1 Section Mountain Battery, 4 Companies 2nd Dorsets) keeping 1,200 yards from the edge of the date groves and followed by the Main Body at approximately the same distance.

The march was continued in this order till the Advanced Guard was approximately south of Saihan village and creek at 7 A.M. At 7-10 A.M. the enemy opened fire on the Advanced Guard from two positions on the edge of the date groves with rifles and machine guns and on the main body with artillery. The 104th Rifles were sent immediately to turn and capture the enemy's first position and then to work through the date groves from the east. The Mountain Battery (2 Sections) assisted the 104th Rifles and 1 Section kept the hostile guns in the Turkish second position in check. The 104th took the first Turkish position in capital style about 8-30 A.M. At the same hour the reinforcements arrived from camp.

The Advanced Guard was then reinforced by the remaining half battalion, of the 2nd Battalion, Dorset Regiment, and extended to their left so as to outflank the second Turkish position from the desert side. The 30th Mountain Battery was put under the orders of the Officer Commanding 2nd Battalion, Dorset Regiment, who now commanded the Advanced Guard. The 20th Infantry (less 4 Companies) filled the gap between the Advanced Guard and the 104th Rifles on our right, leaving the 4 Companies of the 20th Infantry and 23rd Peshawar Mountain Battery in general reserve under my own hand. A general advance was then made on the second Turkish position, assisted by the admirably directed fire of both the Mountain Batteries, from which the enemy suffered severely. The position was entrenched and held by the Turks with determination. It was gallantly rushed by the 2nd Battalion, Dorset Regiment, about 9-30 A.M. The enemy made off northwards through the date palms.

In the meanwhile the 104th Rifles on our right found the ground inside the wood very difficult owing to the numerous irrigation cuts. They pushed forward slowly till they reached the line held by the 2nd Dorsets and the 20th Infantry, meeting with strong opposition at a fortified village, where there were posted 1 gun and 1 machine gun.

The arrival of Turkish reinforcements from their force near Umm-ur-Rowais might now be expected at any minute.

In view, therefore, of my instructions not to get too seriously engaged, I ordered a withdrawal to camp, after doing considerable damage to the Turkish camp. The retirement was unmolested.

H.M.S. Odin co-operated in the action by steaming up the river parallel with the troops, but owing to the impossibility of observing fire through and over the belt of date palms, her fire was necessarily restricted to a minimum.

I estimated the enemy's strength at 1,200 with 4 mountain guns and 3 machine guns. From information given by prisoners the force appears to have been considerably stronger. I put their losses at 160 dead and wounded unable to move. We took prisoners 6 unwounded and 19 wounded, including a battalion commander.

Our casualties came to—

Captain Maclean, 104th Rifles ... ... } Severely wounded.
Lieutenant Yeatman, 2nd Battalion, Dorset Regiment }

Rank and file	Killed.	Wounded.	Missing.
2nd Battalion, Dorest Regiment ...	5	38	Nil.
104th Rifles	3	14	,,
20th Infantry		2	,,
No. 1 Brigade, Indian Mountain Artillery		1	,,

The behaviour of all the troops was admirable. The co-operation between artillery and infantry was good.

I would mention that the information regarding the enemy obtained by Major H. Smyth, Special Service Officer, proved to be absolutely correct.

I bring to notice the good work done by the following:—

(a) Lieutenant-Colonel H. L. Rosher, 2nd Battalion, Dorset Regiment, who commanded the main attack on the enemy's position in an able manner.

(b) Major H. A. Holdich, Brigade Major, 16th Brigade. An able Staff Officer who gave me the greatest assistance during the engagement.

(c) Lieutenant E. B. Allnutt, R.A.M.C., in medical charge of the 2nd Battalion, Dorset Regiment, reported as having displayed great gallantry in attending the wounded on the open plain.

(d) Bugler Surain Singh, 24th Duke of Cambridge's Own Infantry, reported by the Officer Commanding 104th Wellesley's Rifles, as having very bravely set fire to a village held by the enemy.

MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 604M.—The 25th February 1915.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Ben. Act III of 1884), the Governor in Council makes the following rules subject to which the Commissioners of the Hooghly-Chinsura Municipality may allow communication-pipes to be laid down from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to premises within the Municipality for domestic purposes only:—

Hooghly.

Rules for the grant to private premises of house-connections for domestic purposes, in connection with the filtered water-supply in the Hooghly-Chinsura Municipality.

1. So long as the Commissioners deem it practicable, and consistent with the maintenance of an efficient water-supply they may allow any owner or occupier of a holding paying a water-rate imposed under the provisions of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, on the annual value of such holding, when such annual value is not less than Rs. 48, to lay down communication-pipes from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to such holding for domestic purposes only, subject to the following rules and conditions.

2. The owner or occupier of any holding requiring water to be led on to such holding for domestic purposes or requiring any addition or alteration to an existing water-supply, must apply for the same on a printed form to be supplied free of cost at the Municipal office.

3. A fee of Rs. 100 must be paid to the Commissioners by such owner or occupier for each house-connection before any work is commenced, such fee being in addition to all other costs incurred and charges imposed under these rules.

4. Each holding must have a separate connection, and extensions from the communication-pipe of one holding to another shall not be permitted.

4. (a) No holding shall have more than one connection, provided that the Commissioners at a meeting may grant a second connection, on the same terms and subject to the same conditions and fees as are prescribed by these rules for a first connection, to a holding, the annual value of which is not less than Rs. 2,000, if they are satisfied that the supply of water cannot be properly and adequately secured by a single connection in such holding.

5. The owner or occupier of the holding, in respect of which the connection is required, must bear the entire cost of the connection including the supply and fixing of the fittings referred to in rule 7 and must also pay the cost of such alterations in or repairs to roads, drains, sewers, gas or water mains or pipes, and the cost of such other works as may be necessitated by, or result from, the work of making such connections.

6. (1) The work required may be carried out either by the Commissioners themselves at the expense of the owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the work is required, or by a person or firm specially authorized by the Commissioners in this behalf and employed by such owner or occupier.

(2) The work must be done under the supervision of an officer deputed by the Commissioners in this behalf, and no connection must be made with the Municipal water main except by a plumber specially authorized by the Commissioners to execute the works, and at such time as may be appointed and in such position as may be selected by an authorized Municipal officer in whose presence alone such connection is to be effected.

7. A house-connection shall comprise the following parts and fittings :—

(a) a brass or gun-metal ferrule inserted in the main supply-pipe,

(b) a galvanized iron communication-pipe from the ferrule to the stop-cock,

(c) a stop-cock and its surface-box.

(d) a meter,

(e) service pipes from the stop-cock to the taps, and

(f) taps.

8. (1) All the fittings referred to in rule 7 shall be exact duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Commissioners and approved by them in meeting.

(2) All fittings shall be inspected and tested and stamped by an officer of the Municipality before being fixed.

(3) If any owner or occupier shall desire to adopt any fittings of a pattern different from the standard patterns, he must present such fittings for the approval of the Chairman, and any fittings so presented may, if considered satisfactory by the Chairman, be stamped and passed.

9. (a) The sizes of the ferrule and the diameter of the communication-pipe referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of rule 7, and the number of taps shall be fixed subject to the following scale in accordance with the annual valuation of the holdings :—

Annual valuation of holding.	Size of the ferrule.	Diameter of communication-pipe not exceeding—	Number of taps.
Rs. 48 to Rs. 99	$\frac{3}{10}$"	$\frac{1}{2}$"	2
Rs. 100 to Rs. 299	$\frac{1}{2}$"	$\frac{1}{2}$"	3
Rs. 300 to Rs. 499	$\frac{1}{2}$"	$\frac{3}{4}$"	4
Rs. 500 to Rs. 999	$\frac{1}{2}$"	$\frac{3}{4}$"	5
Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 1,999 ...	$\frac{1}{2}$"	$\frac{3}{4}$"	6
Rs. 2,000 and above ...	Special sanction of the Commissioners.

(b) Every tap shall be of the same size as the pipe to which it is attached and shall be of brass and of the pattern known as "screw down." Every tap shall be at least 3 feet above the road level.

10. The house-connection, when fitted in position, must be capable of standing a pressure of 100 feet, and no water shall be supplied until this test has been applied by the Commissioners.

11. (1) On every communication-pipe a brass or gun-metal stop-cock having the same waterway as such pipe shall be placed as near as practicable to the point where that pipe enters the holding to be supplied.

(2) The stop-cock shall be built in a brick chamber provided with a cast-iron surface cover box so designed that it can be locked, and the key of this box shall remain under the control of the Chairman.

(3) The stop-cock shall be capable of adjustment so that the supply to the building may be regulated thereby.

(4) Whenever a communication-pipe is laid across a sewer or open drain, or in any place where, in the opinion of the Commissioners, it is liable to injury, such pipe shall be passed through an exterior cast-iron pipe of sufficient length and strength to afford due protection to it.

12. (1) The meter shall be placed as near to the stop-cock as possible and in a position where it can be coveniently examined.

(2) The meter must be fixed in a brick chamber covered over with a cast-iron surface-box of approved pattern.

(3) Subject to the provisions of rule 13, no meter must be touched or interfered with in any way except with the permission of the Chairman.

13. The Commissioners shall depute an authorised person to read every meter not less than once a quarter, and shall give notice to the occupier at least twenty-four hours before the reading is recorded.

14. (1) Every owner or occupier of any holding, in respect of which a connection has been made under these rules, shall be entitled to a supply of—

(a) 3,000 gallons of water per quarter for each rupee, and

(b) a further proportionate number of gallons per quarter for every additional fraction of a rupee, paid by him quarterly as water-rate in respect of such holding.

(2) For all water in excess of the amount allowed under sub-rule (1) such owner or occupier shall be charged quarterly as follows:—

(a) For any excess quantity of water not exceeding one-half of the amount of the free allowance, 4 annas per 1,000 gallons.

(b) For any excess quantity of water exceeding one-half of the amount of the free allowance but not exceeding the amount of the free allowance, 6 annas per 1,000 gallons.

(c) For any excess of water exceeding the amount of the free allowance but not exceeding twice that amount, 8 annas per 1,000 gallons.

(d) For any excess quantity of water exceeding twice the amount of the free allowance, 12 annas per 1,000 gallons.

15. If the owner or occupier of any holding, which is supplied with water under these rules, shall refuse or neglect to pay any of the fees or charges imposed in accordance with those rules for a space of one month after he has been served with a notice of demand in writing for the same, the Commissioners may at any time after the expiration of that period and without further notice, disconnect any pipe forming part of the connection made in respect of such holding and may recover the cost of disconnecting such pipe from such owner or occupier:

Provided that the disconnection of such pipe shall not relieve any person from any liabilities which he may have incurred under these rules:

Provided also that the connection shall be restored on payment by the defaulter of all liabilities which he may have incurred under these rules, together with a penalty of Re. 1 as the cost of restoration.

NOTICE.

License to extract and purchase timber from the North and Middle Andaman Islands.

1. Notice is hereby given that the Government of India are prepared to consider tenders for a license to extract and purchase padauk and other timbers from—

(i) The North Andaman with Interview, Bennett, and all other Islands north of Austin Strait.

(ii) The Middle Andaman excepting that portion to the west of Yoljig and south of the main line cleared from the junction of the Chara lung-ta and Bom-lung-ta streams westwards to Mount Oldham and on to the sea.

2. Sites for depôts, sawmills, residences, and other purposes essential to the carrying out of the terms of the license will be made available at Port Cornwallis, Stewart Sound, and Long Island at the discretion of the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

3. Tenders may be submitted for either or both of the above areas. The license will be for 20 years from the 1st January 1916, or such later date within six months of the acceptance of the tender as may be agreed upon, with the option of renewal for another 20 years on terms to be notified by the Government of India hereafter; but those persons whose tenders have been accepted will be permitted to clear land for buildings, and other purposes connected with the license, and to start the erection of such buildings, as from the date on which the agreement is signed and the security money deposited.

4. The fellings will be regulated by the working plans sanctioned or to be sanctioned, by the Government of India. The two areas, mentioned in paragraph 1 above will each be divided into three sub periodic blocks. Felling and extraction of timber and the payment of royalty thereon must be completed in sub-periodic block I by the end of the first seven years of the license, work being similarly completed in sub-periodic blocks II and III by the end of the 11th and 15th years, respectively. Throughout the period of the agreement the Secretary of State for India in Council will retain the right to extract from the licensed areas timber required for local (other than trade purposes) and for local public works, and in any sub-periodic block on the expiry of the period allotted for the working thereof to issue licenses or otherwise provide for the felling, extraction, and disposal of timber which the licensees have omitted or are not bound to extract.

5. The padauk trees to be felled will be marked previously by the Forest Department, and none but marked trees shall be felled. The first sub-periodic block in each area will be located in the neighbourhood of Stewart Sound.

6. The minimum annual outturn of padauk timber for the first fourteen years after which the present working plan will be revised, is estimated as follows, but the accuracy of the estimate is not guaranteed :—

(i) From the North Andaman including Interview and Bennett Islands—

1,200 sound trees of and over 9 feet in girth,
1,000 exploitable unsound trees,

which may be expected to yield—

2,100 tons of first-class logs,
1,400 tons of second-class logs,
2,000 tons of third-class logs.

(ii) From the Middle Andaman—

2,400 sound trees of and over 9 feet in girth,
2,000 exploitable unsound trees,

which may be expected to yield—

4,200 tons of first-class logs,
2,800 tons of second-class logs,
4,000 tons of third-class logs.

The outturn for the last six years of the license will be determined by working plans to be drawn up hereafter.

7. In addition the licensees will be permitted to cut, subject to previous marking, should this in the opinion of the Forest Officer be considered desirable, and to such limits as to area and number as may be imposed by the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands from time to time, other species as follows :—

Gurjan over 8 ft. in girth, didu and pyinma over 7½ ft. in girth, and koka, black chuglam, white chulgam, white bambwe, red bambwe, and taungpein over 6 ft. in girth.

8. The timber will, in all cases, be measured in the round log either at the stump or at collecting depôts as may be found convenient by the Forest Department. All felled timber will be held to be at the risk of the licensees and to be liable to the payment of royalty which must be paid before removal from the islands or conversion in a sawmill.

9. For the first three years of the license royalty will be payable at the rates agreed on and on the amount of timber felled; but thereafter minima annual royalties will be payable as follows :—

(i) for the North Andaman, Rs. 1,00,000 per annum,
(ii) for the Middle Andaman, Rs. 1,00,000 per annum,
(iii) in case of a combined license for both islands, Rs. 2,00,000 per annum.

10. Except with the special permission of the Divisional Forest Officer all padauk trees, sound or unsound, which have been marked by the forest officers as in their opinion worth conversion, must be felled and royalty paid on them.

11. Should the licensees desire to exploit any form of minor produce or any timber other than those species mentioned above, they may be permitted to do so on terms to be settled hereafter by the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

12. The licensees will be subject to such restrictions as the Government of India may prescribe to prevent communication between their employés and the convict population in the Andamans.

13. Subject to the general control of the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands the cultivation of field crops solely for the support of the labour force will be permitted free of taxation.

14. Facilities will be provided at Stewart Sound for wireless telegraphy, and as far as may be possible for a weekly steamer or launch connection for postal purposes between this place and Port Blair.

15. Such padauk timber as may be available from departmental working in the areas not included in the first paragraph of this notice or in sub-periodic blocks in which felling and extraction of timber has been completed by the licensees in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4 above and as may not be required for local consumption in the islands or for issue to State-worked railways or other Government departments in India and Burma, will be sold either by public auction or by public tender, provided that the quantity to be so sold annually, commencing from the first of January 1917, shall not exceed 500 tons of squares and 1,000 tons of scantlings. There will be no limit to the quantity of timber other than padauk which may be extracted from the areas under reference, and no restriction as to its disposal.

16. The Inspector-General of Forests, Simla, will answer calls for further information.

17. Tenders must be submitted on forms to be obtained from the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, and must be accompanied by a receipt for the payment into any Government Treasury of a sum of Rs. 1,500 in cash or in Government securities. This deposit will be returned to unsuccessful tenderers, but in the case of persons whose tenders have been accepted will be subject to forfeiture in the event of their failure to execute within the time specified the agreement referred to below.

18. All persons whose tenders have been accepted will be required to execute an agreement in a form approved by the Government of India, copies of which can be obtained on application to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, Simla. This agreement must be signed within three months of the acceptance of the tender.

19. Tenders, marked "Tender for Andamans Timber License", should be submitted so as to reach the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, Simla, on or before the 1st September 1915. The Government of India do not undertake to accept the highest or any tender either for padauk or for other timbers, or to assign any reasons for the refusal or acceptance of any tender.

20. Without the written sanction of the Government of India no transfer, assignment or sub-letting of their license by the licensees will be valid.

L. J. KERSHAW,

Secretary to the Government of India,
Department of Revenue and Agriculture.

No. 45 (second publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1 of 1915), are republished :—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.—No. 1805 of 1914; (This office No. 17 of 1915) hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.

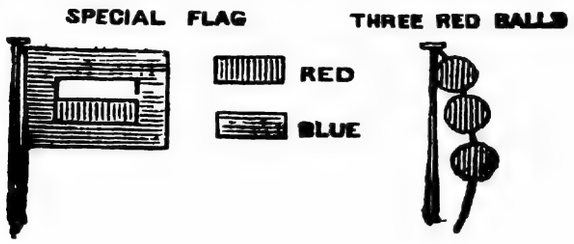
(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the Examination anchorage. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.



By night the steamer will carry :—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.

(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty Charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer.

(9) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(10) Merchant vessels when approaching ports are specially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night: the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(11) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

Sweeping Operations.

H.M. Vessels are constantly engaged in sweeping operations off ports in the United Kingdom.

Whilst so engaged, they work in pairs connected by a wire hawser, and are consequently hampered to a very considerable extent in their manœuvring powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which these vessels are engaged, they will show the following signals:—

A black ball at the foremast head and a similar ball at the yardarm, or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous for vessels to pass.

For the public safety, all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying this signal, and should especially remember that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair.

REFORM OF CALCUTTA MADRASAH CURRICULUM.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

EDUCATION.

CALCUTTA, THE 25TH FEBRUARY 1915.

RESOLUTION—No. 981.

IN this Government Resolution No. 450T.G., dated the 31st July 1914, the Governor in Council declared his intention of introducing into all the Government Madrasahs in this province, with the exception of the Calcutta Madrasah, a revised curriculum of studies which sought to modernise the courses and to combine with instruction in Islamic studies a thorough grounding in the English language. This revised curriculum was the result of the deliberations of a committee of experts that had been appointed to consider the matter in connection with the proposal for the establishment of a Faculty of Islamic Studies in the Dacca University. The reform was considered necessary in the interests of the Muhammadan community in order to provide such an education for its members as would enable them to play their part in the various activities which go to make up the public life of India. It was at the same time recognised that there also existed a strong demand among a large body of Muhammadans for scholars of the old type versed in the ancient lore of Islam, who would minister to their religious and social requirements and uphold their ancient traditions. To meet this demand it was decided that the reformed course should not be introduced into the Calcutta Madrasah which should be reserved for studies on old orthodox lines and should provide the kind of teaching which has made the Madrasahs in Upper India the centre of Islamic learning for the whole of India.

2. It has also been brought to the notice of the Governor in Council that scholars from Bengal Madrasahs have not made any substantial contribution to the learning and literature of Islam, and that, though the Calcutta Madrasah is maintained at a far greater expense than any other Madrasah in India, a large number of students from Bengal, after passing the highest examination of the Bengal Madrasahs, proceed to Deoband and other reputed seats of Islamic learning in Upper India for the completion of their studies. His Excellency in Council is desirous of making the Calcutta Madrasah as efficient in every way as any other Madrasah in India. To achieve this end it is essential that the present curriculum of the Calcutta Madrasah should be carefully revised in order that the institution may fulfil in a higher degree the purpose of its existence, viz., the promotion of sound scholarship in the various branches of Islamic learning. The Governor in Council has accordingly decided to appoint a committee to revise the curriculum of the Calcutta Madrasah and to make suggestions for its improvement. The committee will consist of the following gentlemen :—

1.	Mr. A. H. Harley, Principal, Calcutta Madrasah ...	Chairman.
2.	Shams-ul-Ulama Moulana Abdul Huq Huqquani, Head Maulvi, Calcutta Madrasah ...	Members.
3.	Maulvi Nazir Hasan, Calcutta Madrasah ...
4.	Maulvi Hafizullah, Dacca Madrasah ...
5.	Maulvi Mir Muhammad, Hooghly Madrasah ...
6.	Maulvi Abdul Aziz, Ramzania Madrasah, Calcutta
7.	Maulvi Muhammad Yunus, Head Maulvi, Hussamia Madrasah, Comilla.
8.	Maulvi Obaidul Huq, Superintendent, Sitakund Madrasah, Chittagong.
9.	Maulvi Abdul Huq

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that copies of it be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and the members of the committee.

By order of the Governor in Council,

H. F. SAMMAN,
Secretary to the Govt of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1914-15.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1912-13, the acreage under linseed in Bengal has represented some 6·0 per cent., and that under rape and mustard, 21·4 per cent. of the total acreage under these crops in British India.)

Area Sown.—Oilseeds are chiefly grown in the Rajshahi, Dacca and Presidency Divisions. In the other two divisions the area under the crops is very small. The total area under the crops sown up to date this year (excepting til for which separate forecasts are issued) is reported to be 1,556,800 acres against 1,573,000 acres last year.

Character of the Season.—The sowings were generally normal, being neither early nor late. Rainfall was defective both in September and October which hampered the sowings in places to some extent. A dry November followed. Light showers during the latter part of December and at the end of January proved somewhat beneficial to the crops. The weather conditions have not been wholly favourable throughout the Province. The prospects so far are reported to be fair.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of District Officers, the total outturn of the different kinds of oilseeds (excepting til) for the Province as a whole works out to 78 per cent. against 90 per cent. of the normal last year.

J. R. BLACKWOOD,
Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1914-15.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1912-13, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. This ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has in the five years ending 1912-13 averaged (a) 37·7 per cent. and (b) 17·4 per cent., respectively.)

Character of the Season.—The sowings were commenced generally at the normal time, although the season in September and October was not favourable owing to insufficiency of rainfall. In some tracts there was not moisture enough even for the germination of the seed. Drought prevailed throughout the Province during November and the first part of December. Rainfall during the latter part of December and occasional light showers in January somewhat improved the situation, but the season as a whole cannot be considered to be favourable. The prospects are so far unsatisfactory.

Area Sown.—The total area sown with the crop this year is estimated at 134,700 acres against 144,100 acres of last year.

Outturn.—The outturn in the important wheat-growing districts is as follows :— Nadia 42 per cent. ; Murshidabad 67 per cent. ; Malda 55 per cent. ; Pabna 80 per cent. According to the estimate of the District Officers the provincial outturn works out to 63 per cent. against 92 per cent. of the normal last year.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 1st March 1915.

Summary.—During the week under review light-to-moderate rain fell in several districts of the Province. More rain is however wanted, especially in the Western Bengal districts and in Bakarganj. Preparation of lands for autumn crops is in brisk progress. Harvesting of rabi crops and cutting and pressing of sugarcane continue. The standing crops are doing fairly well. Cattle-disease is reported from twelve districts. The average price of common rice for the Province remained almost stationary, as compared with that of the previous week.

DRAFT RULES.

1. Wherever mooring posts have been put up by the Supervisor, vessels must be made fast by the bow and stern along the banks to such posts, or in such other manner as the Supervisor may direct

2. As the water falls, the bow and stern ropes must be slackened, and boats gradually pushed towards the centre of the canal; when the flood comes in these two ropes must be gradually hauled in, and the boat kept as close to the bank as possible.

3. In portions of the canals where only one towing-path exists, vessels must be moored on the off-side, and the towing-path side must always be kept clear.

4. Only one boat is allowed to make fast along and in line with the canal banks, and no boat is to be made fast or be placed outside of boats so secured without the special permission of the Supervisor. No boat or raft is to be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other boats, or obstruct the passage of other boats; but all boats are to be placed in such places and in such a manner as the Supervisor or Inspector may at any time direct.

5. The Supervisor may, by notification, prohibit the dropping of anchors or the putting up of bamboos or luggees in any part of the canals or banks, and in such part no anchors must be dropped or bamboos or luggees put up.

6. Boats whilst loading or unloading in the canals are allowed to use ladders, but the ladders must be gradually taken in as the water rises.

7. In order to avoid collision and confusion, boats waiting for a favourable tide at the junction of two or more rivers must be moored at a distance of not less than 1,000 feet from the point of junction.

8. No person is allowed to place any obstruction on the canal banks, roads, drains or bridges (when such are on canal land) so as to impede a free passage along them, or cause injury to them, or to commit a nuisance, or deposit filth of any sort on the banks, bridges or roads or in the canals.

9. No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the canals.

10. In every case of wreck caused by negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor and his subordinates must give all possible assistance in removing the same.

11. A notice must be affixed on a wreck when recovered, calling on those concerned to pay to the Supervisor all tolls which may be due, or any fine which may have been adjudged, as well as the expenses incurred in the recovery or removal of the wreck; and intimating that if the sum be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the boat and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold, the proceeds of the sale being dealt with as directed in section 9 of the Canals Act, 1864.

12. Every Canal officer is authorized to remove any vessel, anchor, pole or other thing which he may find in a position which is in contravention of these rules, and to deal with it in such a manner as may be necessary to give effect to the rules.

13. Whenever any laden vessel is seized by a Canal Officer, it is the duty of the Supervisor to give immediate notice of the same to the owner or his agent, requiring the removal of the cargo without delay, and informing him that he will be required to pay all expenses necessary for the proper custody and storage of the same.

14. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or abode of the owner of the cargo of any vessel or boat seized under the said Act, he must notify the seizure by advertisement in his office and in one or more of the public newspapers. Such notice shall require the owner to cause the immediate removal of the cargo, and to pay any necessary expenses incurred in providing for its proper custody and storage.

15. The Supervisor may incur whatever expense he may think necessary for the proper custody and storage of the cargo of any vessel seized under the Act, and if the cargo be not removed within ten days from the date of seizure, he may sell the same at public auction to the highest bidder, after giving ten days' notice of the same by advertisement in his office and in one or more of the public newspapers.

16. The money realized at such a sale is to be applied, in the first instance, to defray any expenditure that may have been incurred by the Supervisor on account of the cargo sold and the balance, if any, is to be held in deposit to be paid to the owner of the said cargo on his applying for the same.

17. No officer of any description or rank employed on the canal shall, either directly or indirectly, bid for or purchase any articles sold under these rules or under the provisions of the Act.

18. Any person (other than the Supervisor or his subordinates) who, either personally, or by his servant, infringes any of these rules, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for any one infringement, and to a fine not exceeding five rupees a day for any continued infringement.

NOTICE.

License to extract and purchase timber from the North and Middle Andaman Islands.

1. Notice is hereby given that the Government of India are prepared to consider tenders for a license to extract and purchase padauk and other timbers from—

(i) The North Andaman with Interview, Bennett, and all other Islands north of Austin Strait.

(ii) The Middle Andaman excepting that portion to the west of Yoljig and south of the main line cleared from the junction of the Chara lung-ta and Bom-lung-ta streams westwards to Mount Oldham and on to the sea.

2. Sites for depôts, sawmills, residences, and other purposes essential to the carrying out of the terms of the license will be made available at Port Cornwallis, Stewart Sound, and Long Island at the discretion of the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

3. Tenders may be submitted for either or both of the above areas. The license will be for 20 years from the 1st January 1916, or such later date within six months of the acceptance of the tender as may be agreed upon, with the option of renewal for another 20 years on terms to be notified by the Government of India hereafter ; but those persons whose tenders have been accepted will be permitted to clear land for buildings, and other purposes connected with the license, and to start the erection of such buildings, as from the date on which the agreement is signed and the security money deposited.

4. The fellings will be regulated by the working plans sanctioned or to be sanctioned, by the Government of India. The two areas, mentioned in paragraph 1 above will each be divided into three sub-periodic blocks. Felling and extraction of timber and the payment of royalty thereon must be completed in sub-periodic block I by the end of the first seven years of the license, work being similarly completed in sub-periodic blocks II and III by the end of the 11th and 15th years, respectively. Throughout the period of the agreement the Secretary of State for India in Council will retain the right to extract from the licensed areas timber required for local (other than trade purposes) and for local public works, and in any sub-periodic block on the expiry of the period allotted for the working thereof to issue licenses or otherwise provide for the felling, extraction, and disposal of timber which the licensees have omitted or are not bound to extract.

5. The padauk trees to be felled will be marked previously by the Forest Department, and none but marked trees shall be felled. The first sub-periodic block in each area will be located in the neighbourhood of Stewart Sound.

6. The minimum annual outturn of padauk timber for the first fourteen years after which the present working plan will be revised, is estimated as follows, but the accuracy of the estimate is not guaranteed :—

(i) From the North Andaman including Interview and Bennett Islands—

1,200 sound trees of and over 9 feet in girth,
1,000 exploitable unsound trees,

which may be expected to yield—

2,100 tons of first-class logs,
1,400 tons of second-class logs,
2,000 tons of third-class logs.

(ii) From the Middle Andaman—,

2,400 sound trees of and over 9 feet in girth,
2,000 exploitable unsound trees,

which may be expected to yield—

4,200 tons of first-class logs,
2,800 tons of second-class logs,
4,000 tons of third-class logs.

The outturn for the last six years of the license will be determined by working plans to be drawn up hereafter.

7. In addition the licensees will be permitted to cut, subject to previous marking, should this in the opinion of the Forest Officer be considered desirable, and to such limits as to area and number as may be imposed by the Chief Commissioner of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands from time to time, other species as follows :—

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 24th February, 1915:—

No. 4 of 1915.

A Bill to extend the powers of the Governor General in Council during the continuance of the present war to make rules under the Indian Patents and Designs Act, 1911.

I of 1911.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Patents and Designs (Temporary Rules) Act, 1915.

Short title, extent, etc.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India including British Baluchistan and the Santhal Parganas.

(3) This Act and the rules made thereunder shall be in force during the continuance of the present war and for a period of six months thereafter.

2. In this Act the expression 'subject of any State at war with His Majesty' includes—

Definitions.

(i) any person resident and carrying on business in the territory of a State at war with His Majesty; and

(ii) with reference to a company, any company the business whereof is managed or controlled by such subjects, or is carried on wholly or mainly for the benefit or on behalf of such subjects, notwithstanding that the company may be registered within His Majesty's dominions.

3. (1) The power of the Governor General in Council under section 77 of the Indian Patents and Designs Act, 1911, to make rules shall include power to make rules—

Power to make rules.

II of 1911.

(a) for avoiding or suspending in whole or in part any patent or licence, the person entitled to the benefit of which is the subject of any State at war with His Majesty;

(b) for avoiding or suspending the registration, and all or any rights conferred by the registration, of any design the proprietor whereof is a subject as aforesaid;

(c) for avoiding or suspending any application made by any such person under the said Act;

(d) for enabling the grant, in favour of persons other than such persons as aforesaid, on such terms and conditions, and either for the whole term of the patent or registration or for such less period, as may be thought fit, of licences to make, use, exercise, or vend, patented inventions and registered designs so liable to avoidance or suspension as aforesaid; and

(e) for extending the time within which any act or thing may be or is required to be done under the said Act.

(2) If the rules made under this Act so provide, the rules or any of them shall have effect from the passing of this Act.

Power in case of exclusive privileges under Act V of 1888.

4. The power to make rules conferred by section 3 (1) (a) and (d) of this Act shall be exercisable in respect of any exclusive privilege acquired under the Inventions and Designs Act, 1888, as if such exclusive privilege had been a patent granted under the Indian Patents and Designs Act, 1911. V of 1888. II of 1911.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IT is considered desirable, during the present hostilities, that power should be taken to refuse to receive applications for the grant of patents or registration of designs from persons who are subjects of a State at war with His Majesty, and to order the avoidance or suspension of patents or designs held or registered by or for the benefit of such subjects, and to enable the grant of compulsory licences to persons other than such subjects. No. 45 (third publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1 of 1915), are republished :—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.—No. 1805 of 1914; (This office No. 17 of 1915) hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.

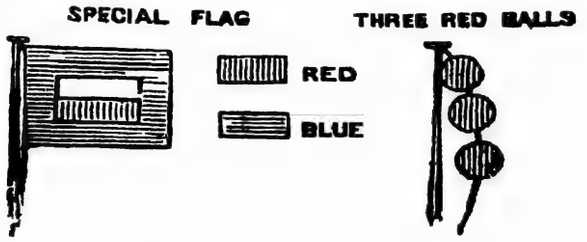
(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the Examination anchorage. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.



By night the steamer will carry :—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.

(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty Charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer.

(9) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(10) Merchant vessels when approaching ports are specially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night: the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(11) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

A black ball at the foremast head and a similar ball at the yardarm, or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous for vessels to pass.

For the public safety, all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying this signal, and should especially remember that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair.

3. The subjoined table I. shows in detail the importations into the port of Calcutta and the total clearances of sea-imported salt during the quarter compared with the figures of the corresponding quarters of the two previous years :—

Compared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year and the same quarter of 1912-13, importations were less by 41·9 per cent. and 20·3 per cent., respectively, but clearances were greater by 30·6 and 30·5 per cent. As compared with the corresponding period of the previous year, the decreased imports from United Kingdom, Hamburg, Port Said, Spain, Salif and Bombay and the increased imports from Aden, Massowah and Madras are especially noticeable.

4. Table II shows the quantity of sea-imported salt remaining in the warehouses at the close of the quarter, as compared with the preceding four quarters :—

* The prices are exclusive of the Port Commissioners' special toll of 4 annas per ton and customs duty of Re. 1 per maund.

The continued increase in price during the quarter was due to the depletion of stocks by heavy clearances from bond owing to an anticipation of a rise in the rate of duty and also to the rise in freights. It is reported that 67,640 maunds of Madras salt were imported into the Port of Calcutta, the average price of which was Rs. 53-12 per 100 maunds.
